- 2020-21 Measure N Annual Report

THE OAKLAND COLLEGE & CAREER READINESS FOR ALL FUND (Measure N) was established to pay for the implementation of a comprehensive approach to high school education in Oakland that integrates challenging academics with work-based learning and real-world work experiences. This comprehensive approach creates small learning communities of career-aligned pathways and offers intensive, individualized support to create the conditions for all students to graduate high school prepared to succeed in college and career.

About the COVID-19 Pandemic:
During the 2020-21 school year all District and Charter high schools in Oakland provided distance learning classes to students in response to the COVID-19 pandemic. The data in this report reflect the educational challenges brought on by the pandemic, including decreased student engagement for many of our scholars. Some data remained relatively the same between 2019-20 and 2020-21, such as the overall high school dropout and graduation rates. Other data points show large declines, such as the 11.3% decrease in 9th graders on track to graduate in OUSD.

Oakland educators have been working hard to counteract the impact of the pandemic on students with support services, credit recovery options, access to college courses and real world work experiences that align with student interests. Many of these interventions were funded by Measure N. Continuing to support students in career pathways that make learning relevant and rigorous is a critical strategy for re-engaging students and promoting their academic achievement.

Percentage of all High School Students in Linked Learning Pathways

LINKED LEARNING is education organized around industry-sector themes. Students' chosen themes are woven into lessons taught by teachers who collaborate across subject areas with input from working professionals, and reinforced by work-based learning with real employers. Students in these pathways benefit from integrated student supports, early college credit, and a small learning community.
