FAITH NETWORK STATEMENT OF QUALIFICATIONS

OVERVIEW

Faith Network of the East Bay is an Oakland non-profit organization founded in 2001. Our focus is to build healthy families, schools, and neighborhoods by rallying community support for under-resourced urban public schools. Faith Network's mission is to give hope to at-risk students in East Bay schools by surrounding them with a caring community, igniting their innate potential, and helping them to develop academic and life skills crucial to their growth and fulfillment. The goal is to prepare today's youth for a life of serving others and contributing positively to their communities.

Faith Network is tapping and aligning resources from a broad coalition of community partners. Human capital is our most important resource. Our professional staff leads a group of educated volunteers. Most Faith Network volunteers have bachelor degrees, many have completed graduate programs, and/or have experience as professional educators.

In the most recent academic year (2016-2017), Faith Network served 36 schools with the assistance of about 200 regular volunteers who work directly with students, 100 occasional volunteers who lend a hand with short-term projects, and over 60 diverse community partners.

SUCCEEDING BY READING

Succeeding by Reading Clinics provide individualized instruction and reading support for school-designated primary grade students who have fallen or are falling behind with their reading skills. For over 10 years, Succeeding by Reading Clinics have been offering one-on-one weekly "pull-out" tutoring sessions held during school hours to students referred by school personnel.

Training for Tutors: Volunteer tutors receive initial training from a professional reading remediation expert. Mid-year refresher opportunities for continuing tutors is also provided. Experienced tutor coordinators at each clinic provide ongoing in-service support for tutors working with individual students.

One-on-One Tutoring: Referred students are assessed to determine their reading skill level. In consultation with the classroom teacher, Faith Network staff develops a customized program that includes practice with phonics, sight words, and leveled reading fluency. The tutors use a variety of teaching tools and games to accommodate different learning styles and reinforce skills. Students are re-assessed at the end of the school year to determine progress.

SCIENCE HORIZON

Faith Network has been providing opportunities for hands-on learning experiences for over 10 years in a structured program designed to increase student passion for science, engineering and math.

The STEAM Lab gives K-5 grade students weekly hands-on lessons and activities that are designed around Common Core Standards, focusing on the areas of science, technology, engineering, the arts, and math.
