Re: Compliance with California Education Code Sections 1240 as Noted in the 2013 Instructional Materials Site Visit to Allendale Elementary School

Dear Superintendent Yee, President Kakishiba, and Principal Miller:

California Education Code Section 1240 requires county superintendents to visit schools ranked in deciles 1-3 on the 2012 Academic Performance Index (API) to determine if there are sufficient standards-aligned instructional materials in specified areas. "Sufficient" textbooks or instructional materials, or both, is defined in California Education Code Sections 1240 and 60119. Each pupil, including English learners, must have standards-aligned materials to use in class and to take home.

On September 16, 2013, a Williams Team from the Alameda County Office of Education (ACOE) visited Allendale Elementary School. I write to notify you that the status of the school's instructional materials was found to be compliant with California Education Code, specifically those sections that incorporate the Williams Settlement Legislation.

I want to extend my appreciation for the cooperation site and district personnel gave the Williams Team and the courtesies they extended to the Team during its visit. I value the contributions you have made to demonstrate our county-wide commitment to ensuring equity in education for all students.

Sincerely,

Re: Compliance with California Education Code Sections 1240 as Noted in The 2013 Instructional Materials Site Visit to Fremont High School

Dear Superintendent Yee, President Kakishiba, and Principal Sanchez:

California Education Code Section 1240 requires county superintendents to visit schools ranked in deciles 1-3 on the 2012 Academic Performance Index (API) to determine if there are sufficient standards-aligned instructional materials in specified areas. "Sufficient" textbooks or instructional materials, or both, is defined in California Education Code Sections 1240 and 60119. Each pupil, including English learners, must have standards-aligned materials to use in class and to take home.

On September 18, 2013, a Williams Team from the Alameda County Office of Education (ACOE) visited Fremont High School. I write to notify you that the status of the school's instructional materials was found to be compliant with California Education Code, specifically those sections that incorporate the Williams Settlement Legislation.

I want to extend my appreciation for the cooperation site and district personnel gave the Williams Team and the courtesies they extended to the Team during its visit. I value the contributions you have made to demonstrate our county-wide commitment to ensuring equity in education for all students.

Sincerely,

Sheila Jordan, Superintendent

Each pupil, including English learners, must have standards-aligned materials to use in class and to take home.

On September 24, 2013, a Williams Team from the Alameda County Office of Education (ACOE) visited Manzanita Community School. I write to notify you that the status of the school's instructional materials was found to be compliant with California Education Code, specifically those sections that incorporate the Williams Settlement Legislation.

I want to extend my appreciation for the cooperation site and district personnel gave the Williams Team and the courtesies they extended to the Team during its visit. I value the contributions you have made to demonstrate our county-wide commitment to ensuring equity in education for all students.

Re: Compliance with California Education Code Sections 1240 as Noted in The 2013 Instructional Materials Site Visit to Skyline High School

Dear Superintendent Yee, President Kakishiba, and Principal Trinh:

California Education Code Section 1240 requires county superintendents to visit schools ranked in deciles 1-3 on the 2012 Academic Performance Index (API) to determine if there are sufficient standards-aligned instructional materials in specified areas. "Sufficient" textbooks or instructional materials, or both, is defined in California Education Code Sections 1240 and 60119. Each pupil, including English learners, must have standards-aligned materials to use in class and to take home.

On September 19, 2013, a Williams Team from the Alameda County Office of Education (ACOE) visited Skyline High School. I write to notify you that the status of the school's instructional materials was found to be compliant with California Education Code, specifically those sections that incorporate the Williams Settlement Legislation.

I want to extend my appreciation for the cooperation site and district personnel gave the Williams Team and the courtesies they extended to the Team during its visit. I value the contributions you have made to demonstrate our county-wide commitment to ensuring equity in education for all students.
