Programs & Services Overview

The theory of change that underlies the work of CCEB drives our programs and services. Our theory is that by focusing on clear target populations with need and addressing core issues that lead to poverty, we can partner with clients to create self-sufficiency, strong families and safe communities.

Catholic Charities services people in need who reside in the East Bay. For those living below the California self-sufficiency standard in the East Bay we aim to:

- Meet the immediate needs of individuals and families through a social safety net, and locate long-term support through CCEB programs and partners
- Create resilience and economic health among low-income child rearing households, youth (adolescent through age 24), immigrants & refugees
