LINCOLN CHILD CENTER

Lincoln Child Center enables vulnerable and emotionally troubled children and their families to lead independent and fulfilling lives

Lincoln Child Center was founded in 1883 as the region's first volunteer-run, non-sectarian, and integrated orphanage. As times and community needs evolved, Lincoln's commitment to vulnerable children remained strong. In 1951, Lincoln began serving abused, neglected and emotionally challenged children. Today, our primary goal is to end the cycle of poverty, community violence and mental health problems faced by child and families in the Bay Area. We focus many of our innovative programs on children and youth who experience significant traumas including physical or sexual abuse, pre-natal exposure to drugs and alcohol, domestic violence, or family instability resulting from poverty. Our work helps support families in keeping young people in school, and with family members while reducing the impact of these traumatic experiences.

Lincoln is a $13.3 million dollar organization employing 166 staff within eleven community-based programs. Services are provided to children and youth in the educational, child welfare, behavioral health and juvenile justice systems. Community Based service sites are located in the cities of Oakland, Hayward and Pittsburg, California.

Across its programs, Lincoln serves approximately 4,000 youth and their families each year. Close to eighty percent of Lincoln's clients fall below the federal poverty line. Lincoln's goal is to address the needs of children before they drop out of school, enter foster care or reach juvenile detention. As a solution to community needs, Lincoln has designed programs that address trauma from community and family violence, generational poverty, the stigma for receiving mental health care and the limitations of a strained educational system.

Lincoln's current programs include:

- Kinship Support Services: Kinship provides case management and support services to relative caregivers of youth whose biological parents are unable to care for them. Kinship serves 350 families through support groups, respite care, tutoring, recreational activities, educational advocacy and referral to legal, social services, medical and mental health services.
- Conyes Academy: The Conyes Academy, an integrated nonpublic school and day treatment program, serves 50 special education students who require intensive education and mental health services.
- HOPE Program: LCC's Helping Open Pathways to Education (HOPE) provides mental health, case management, consultation and early intervention services to elementary, middle and high schools across Alameda and Contra Costa Counties.

- Project Permanence: A Wraparound program creating permanent homes through intensive mental health case management, Project Permanence supports foster youth leaving group or foster care, and youth who are at high risk for out-of-home placement.
- School-Engagement: Using intensive mental health case management, this program engages families who have been brought to the Alameda County Parent Truancy Court, and helps each student and family develop the necessary supports and skills to ensure improvement in school attendance.
- CEO Youth: This program provides 20 youth, either in foster care or on probation, with mentoring and entrepreneurial skills development. At the same time, these youth then take their new found skills and mentor younger students with the goals of improving school attendance and academic success. .
- Therapeutic Behavioral Services: TBS provides intensive mental health intervention for youth who are at risk of placement failure, providing applied behavior analysis techniques to reduce high-risk behaviors.
- Families Together: A family education program providing parents with specific skills to improve parenting and relationship building techniques while, which in-turn helps develop some long-term support networks.
- EXCEL: This program provides special education and individualized behavioral interventions that support students' Individual Education Plan (IEP) goals and improve educational outcomes.
- Early Childhood Mental Health Consultation: ECMHC supports early education teachers through consultation on early identification of mental health, developmental and social skills issues and appropriate interventions.
- Training Institute: LCC's Training Institute serves the Alameda County community by providing a menu of ongoing trainings related to social justice, behavioral health, education, child welfare and general health.

Lincoln is a certified Medi-Cal provider and has extensive experience in managing complex programs, and has an established infrastructure in place, including both operational and financial systems, which are enhanced on a regular basis. Lincoln is accredited by the National Council on Accreditation, certified by the California Department of Education and Alameda County Behavioral Healthcare, accredited by the California Alliance for Child and Family Services, and licensed by the State Department of Social Services.

Lincoln Child Center is accredited by the Council on Accreditation, the California Alliance of Child and Family Services and the California Department of Education.

Lincoln consistently receives high marks from involved youth, parents, and teachers. Lincoln regularly surveys clients to assess program goals. In the school-based programs alone, successes have a ripple effect, creating a safer school environment, strengthening family units, saving lives, and ultimately reducing some of the violence and despair that affects our communities. Lincoln provides a direct benefit to teachers and the entire student population by minimizing classroom distractions and improving the learning environment for all.

Lincoln stops unhealthy cycles of trauma by focusing children and families on making positive choices, providing tools that help families successfully navigate out of traumatic events, and helping the families overcome trauma's detrimental effects. In doing so, Lincoln keeps children in healthy and safe living situations and helps families avoid more intensive intervention.
