Reading Partners statement of qualification

What is Reading Partners?

Reading Partners is a national education nonprofit organization that works with Title I elementary schools to support students who are reading 6 months to 2.5 years behind grade level. Reading Partners recruits and trains community volunteers to deliver highly effective, research-validated curriculum that has helped thousands of children master the fundamental reading skills they need to succeed in school and beyond. Currently, Reading Partners operates 137 reading centers in 7 states and the District of Columbia and serves over 7,700 students each year.

Results matter

In the Bay Area, Reading Partners operates 24 reading centers, including 10 in the East Bay and 5 schools in Oakland Unified. Last year, 87% of Reading Partners students in the Bay Area accelerated their progress in reading, and 72% of students narrowed their grade-level gap in reading. 96% of principals surveyed noted school-wide progress in reading.

A Reading Partners reading center at work

Reading Partners operates a reading center in each elementary school we serve. The center is staffed full time by an Americorps site coordinator, a recent college graduate who is interested in pursuing a career in education, public service or the nonprofit sector. Supervising the site coordinator is a program manager, an experienced educator with a deep knowledge of literacy. Reading Partners also has a community engagement team to recruit and help train the volunteers who serve in each reading center. While in the center, the tutors use Reading Partners' research-validated curriculum, which relies on a balanced approach to literacy and is now aligned to the Common Core standards. Students receive 45 minutes of 1-on-1 tutoring two times a week through the school year. The site coordinator conducts the Rigby PM Ultra assessment three times per year to formally monitor student progress and adjust to students' needs. Site coordinators also provide progress updates twice a year to teachers for each student in the program. In addition to formal assessments and reports, site coordinators and program managers are in consistent contact with classroom teachers, student support teams and school administrators.
