Information Needed	School or Department Response
How will this grant contribute to sustained student achievement or academic standards?	By scaling up the Culturally Responsive PBIS framework to all schools, OUSD will transform school culture and climate and significantly reduce lost instruction time due to problem behavior through a focus on prevention, early intervention, and intensive wraparound services.
How will this grant be evaluated for impact upon student achievement? (Customized data design and technical support are provided at 1% of the grant award or at a negotiated fee for a community-based fiscal agent who is not including OUSD's indirect rate of 5.94% in the budget. The 1% or negotiated data fee will be charged according to an Agreement for Grant Administration Related Services payment schedule. This fee should be included in the grant's budget for evaluation.)	Proposed outcomes include: eliminate disproportionality in school discipline by 2019, reduce chronic absence, increase % of students meeting or exceeding ELA and math benchmark, and district to build and sustain tiered systems of support at all schools
Does the grant require any resources from the school(s) or district? If so, describe.	Yes, the grant leverages existing CEIS Significant Disproportionality funding to expand the scope of professional development and coaching for PBIS to include all schools in the district.
Are services being supported by an OUSD funded grant or by a contractor paid through an OUSD contract or MOU? (If yes, include the district's indirect rate of 5.94% for all OUSD site services in the grant's budget for administrative support, evaluation data, or indirect services.)	District will contract for PBIS Professional Development, Coaching, and Evaluation.
Will the proposed program take students out of the classroom for any portion of the school day? (OUSD reserves the right to limit service access to students during the school day to ensure academic attendance continuity.)	Students in need of early intervention or intensive supports will receive services in a fashion that does not endanger academic achievement.
Who is the contact managing and assuring grant compliance? (Include contact's name, address, phone number, email address.) An Overview of Single Audit Requirements of States,
Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations

To meet audit requirements of U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133, grantees must use the version published by OMB in the Federal Register on June 30, 1997 (62 F.R. 35278) amended June 27, 2003 (68.F.R. 38401). Grantees must submit all documents required by OMB Circular A-133, including Form SF-SAC: Data Collection Form, to:

Federal Audit Clearinghouse
1201 East 10th Street
Jeffersonville, Indiana 47132
(301) 763-1551 (voice)
(800) 253-0696 (toll free)
(301) 457-1540 (fax)

Below is a summary of the single audit requirements:

- (1) Non-Federal entities that expend $500,000 or more in a year in Federal Awards are required to have a single audit conducted for that year except when they elect under paragraph (2) to have a program specific audit conducted for that year (A-133 § __.200 (a & b)).
- (2) When an auditee expends Federal awards under only one Federal program (excluding R&D) and the Federal programs laws, regulations, or grant agreements do not require a financial statement audit of the auditee, the auditee may elect to have a program-specific audit conducted. A program-specific audit may not be elected for R&D unless all of the Federal awards expended were received from the same Federal agency, or the same Federal agency and the same pass-through entity, and that Federal agency, or pass-through entity in the case of a subrecipient, approves in advance a program-specific audit (A-133 § __.200 (c)).
- (3) Non-Federal entities that expend less than $500,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements under A-133 for that year, except where noted in the circular, but records must be available for review or audit by the appropriate officials of the Federal agency, pass-through entity, and General Accounting Office (GAO). If a program statute requires audits of grants under that program, either at a lower threshold or in all cases, grantees must comply with the program statute (A-133 § __.200 (d)).
- (4) A grantee must submit the audit results to the audit clearinghouse within the earlier of 30 days after the receipt of the auditors report(s), or within nine months after end of the audit period, unless a longer period is agreed to in advance by the Federal agency that provided the funding or a different period is specified in a program-specific audit guide (A-133 § __.320 (a)).

Grantees are strongly urged to obtain the "OMB Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement" and to contact their cognizant agency for single audit technical assistance.

The designated cognizant agency for single audit purposes is "the Federal awarding agency that provides the predominant amount of direct funding to the recipient." Grantees should obtain a copy of the OMB Circular A-133 Compliance supplement. This supplement will be instructive to both grantees and their auditors. Appendix III of the supplement provides a list of Federal Agency Contacts for A-133 Audits, including addresses, phone numbers, fax numbers, and e-mail addresses for technical assistance.

If the U.S. Department of Education is the cognizant agency, grantees should contact the Non-Federal Audit Team in the Departments Office of Inspector General, at the address, phone, or fax number provided in page 2 of this attachment.

Grantees can obtain information on single audits from:

The OMB Publications Service, (202) 395-7332. (To obtain OMB Circular A-133, Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement, and Form SF-SAC: Data Collection Form)

The OMB web site. Look under OMB Documents, then OMB Circulars. (To obtain OMB Circular A-133, Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement, and Form SF-SAC: Data Collection Form)

The Federal Audit Clearinghouse, 1-888-222-9907. (to obtain Form SF-SAC: Data Collection Form), or The American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA). AICPA has illustrative OMB Circular A-133 report examples that might be of interest to accountants, auditors, or financial staff. The examples can be obtained by their fax hotline: (202) 938-3797, request document number 311; or from their Internet page. The Internet address is <http://www.aicpa>.

ENCLOSURE1

TO: Project Directors and Fiscal Management Staff for ED
Discretionary Grants

FROM: Philip A. Maestri
Director, Risk Management Service

SUBJECT: Key Financial Management Requirements for Discretionary Grants Awarded by the Department of Education (ED)

As part of the Department's on-going efforts to make you aware of your responsibilities associated with managing Federal funds, I am writing to remind you of important financial management requirements that apply to discretionary grant awards.

In general, the Department expects that you will administer ED grants in accordance with generally accepted business practices, exercising prudent judgment so as to maintain proper stewardship of taxpayer dollars. This includes using fiscal control and fund accounting procedures that insure proper disbursement of and accounting for Federal funds. In addition, you may use grant funds only for obligations incurred during the funding period.

The Education Department General Administrative Regulations (EDGAR) contain the general requirements for administering discretionary grants made by this Department. The most recent version of the regulations [34 CFR 74-99] may be accessed at the website the Government Printing Office (GPO) has established for the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR), at the following URL:

http://www.access.gpo.gov/nara/cfr/waisidx_08/34cfrv1_08.html

Please note that this URL shows ALL the parts associated with Volume One of 34 CFR. EDGAR is comprised ONLY of Parts 74 - 99. In addition, the following link to the Federal Register issue of December 7, 2007, contains a final regulation that modified certain sections of Part 75 (Direct Grants) regarding indirect cost rates:

The attached document, "Selected Topics in Administering ED Discretionary Grants," highlights major administrative requirements of EDGAR in parts 74 and 80. Part 74 applies to institutions of higher education, non-profit organizations, and hospitals. Part 80 applies to States, local governments, and federally recognized Indian tribal governments. In addition, a few of the topics discuss requirements that this Department imposes on its discretionary grantees under Part 75. The specific sections of EDGAR that address the topics discussed are shown in parentheses. I urge you to read the full text of these and other topics in EDGAR.

Please keep in mind that a particular grant might be subject to additional requirements of the authorizing statute for the program that awarded the grant and/or any regulations issued by the program office. You should become familiar with those requirements as well, because program-specific requirements might differ from those in EDGAR.

In closing, I recommend that the project director and the fiscal management staff of a grantee organization communicate frequently with each other about the grant budget. Doing so will help to assure that you use Federal funds only for those expenditures associated with activities that conform to the goals and objectives approved for the project.

You should direct any questions you might have about the topics discussed in the attached document or about any other aspect of administering your grant award to the ED program staff person named in Block 3 of the Grant Award Notification.

Selected Topics in Administering ED Discretionary Grants

I. Financial Management Systems (§74.21, §80.20)

In general, grantees are required to have financial management systems that:

- * provide for accurate, current, and complete disclosure of results regarding the use of funds under grant projects;
- * provide adequate source documentation for Federal and non-Federal funds used under grant projects;
- * contain procedures to determine the allowability, allocability, and reasonableness of obligations and expenditures made by the grantee; and
- * enable the grantee to maintain effective internal control and fund accountability procedures, e.g., requiring separation of functions so that the person who makes obligations for the grantee is not the same person who signs the checks to disburse the funds for those obligations.

State systems must account for funds in accordance with State laws and procedures that apply to the expenditure of and the accounting for a State's own funds. A State's procedures, as well as those of its subrecipients and cost-type contractors, must be sufficient to permit the preparation of reports that may be required under the award as well as provide the tracing of expenditures to a level adequate to establish that award funds have not been used in violation of any applicable statutory restrictions or prohibitions.

II. Payment (§74.22, 80.21)

Under parts 74 and 80,--

- * the Department pays grantees in advance of their expenditures if the grantee demonstrates a willingness and ability to minimize the time between the transfer of funds to the grantee and the disbursement of the funds by the grantee;
- * grantees repay to the Federal government interest earned on advances; and
- * grantees subject to Part 74 deposit grant funds in interest-bearing accounts (grantees subject to part 80 are encouraged to also deposit grant funds in interest-bearing accounts).

In general, grantees should make payment requests frequently, only for small amounts sufficient to meet the cash needs of the immediate future.

The Department has recently encountered situations where grantees failed to request funds until long after the grantee actually expended its own funds for the costs of its grant. Grantees need to be aware that, by law, Federal funds are available for grantees to draw down for only a limited period of time, after which the funds revert to the U.S. Treasury. In some cases grantees have requested funds too late for the Department to be able to pay the grantees for legitimate costs incurred during their project periods. The Department urges financial managers to regularly monitor requests for payment under their grants to assure that Federal funds are drawn from the ED G5 Payment System at the time those funds are needed for payments to vendors and employees.

III. Personnel (§§74.27, 75.511-75.519 and 80.22)

The rules in Part 75 cover issues such as paying consultants with grant funds, waiving the requirement for a full-time project director, making changes in key project staff, and prohibiting dual compensation of staff. General rules governing reimbursement of salaries and compensation for staff working on grant projects are addressed in the cost principles located in Title 2 of the Code of Federal Regulations (2 CFR) (See Cost Principles, below). In all cases, payments of any type to personnel must be supported by complete and accurate records of employee time and effort. For those employees that work on multiple functions or separately funded programs or projects, the grantee must also maintain time distribution records to support the allocation of employee salaries among each function and separately funded program or project.

IV. Cost Principles (§74.27, §80.22)

All costs incurred under any grant are subject to cost principles found in 2 CFR that are applicable to particular types of organizations that serve as grantees under Federal grant programs. The applicable cost principles provide lists of selected items of allowable and unallowable costs, and can be found on the Web at the following URLs:*)

http://www.whitehouse.gov/omb/fedreg/2005/083105_a122.pdf

V. Procurement Standards (§§74.40-48, §80.36)

Under §80.36, States are required to follow the procurement rules the States have established for purchases funded by non-Federal sources. Under both parts 74 and 80, when procuring goods and services for a grant purposes, all other grantees may follow their own procurement procedures, but only to the extent that those procedures meet the minimum requirements for procurement specified in the regulations. These requirements include written competition procedures and codes of conduct for grantee staff, as well as requirements for cost and price analysis, record-keeping and contractor compliance with certain Federal laws and regulations. These regulations also require grantees to include certain conditions in contracts and subcontracts, as mandated by the regulations and statutes.

VI. Indirect Costs (§§75.560-564)

A. A grantee must have a current indirect cost rate agreement to charge indirect costs to a grant. However, if a grantee does not have a federally recognized indirect cost rate agreement on the date ED awards its grant, ED generally will authorize the grantee to use a temporary rate, of 10% of budgeted salaries and wages subject to the following limitations:

1. The grantee must submit an indirect cost proposal to its cognizant agency within 90 days after ED issues the GAN.
 - i. The cognizant agency is generally the Federal department or agency providing the grantee with the most direct Federal funding subject to indirect cost support (or an agency otherwise designated by OMB).
 - ii. If an organization receives most of its Federal funding indirectly as a sub-recipient via another entity (for example, a State Education Agency [SEA]), the conduit organization that provides the most pass-through Federal funding is responsible for establishing indirect cost rates for the sub-recipient.
2. If after the 90-day period, the grantee has not submitted an indirect cost proposal to its cognizant agency, the grantee may not charge its grant for indirect costs until it has negotiated an indirect cost rate agreement with its cognizant agency. However, under exceptional circumstances, ED may allow the grantee to continue using the temporary indirect cost after the end of the 90-day period even though the grantee did not submit an indirect cost proposal within the 90-day period. Before ED approves continued use of the temporary rate, the grantee must provide documentation satisfactory to ED that exceptional circumstances exist.
3. Once a grantee that has used a temporary rate obtains a federally recognized cost rate, the grantee may use the federally recognized rate to claim indirect costs reimbursement. The recovery is subject to the following limitations:
 - i. The grantee may only recover indirect costs incurred on or after the date it submitted its indirect cost rate proposal to its cognizant agency or at the start of the of the project period, whichever of the two occurs later.

- ii. The total amount of funds recovered by the grantee under the federally recognized indirect cost rate is reduced by the amount of indirect costs previously recovered under the temporary indirect cost rate on or after the date specified in subparagraph 3 (i).
- iii. The grantee must obtain prior approval from the Secretary to shift direct costs to indirect costs in order to recover indirect costs at a higher negotiated indirect cost rate.
- iv. The grantee may not request additional funds to recover indirect costs that it cannot recover by shifting direct costs to indirect costs.

4. If an organization receives a combination of direct Federal funding and pass-through funding as a sub-recipient, and the entity does not have a rate established by some other cognizant agency, the Federal agency providing the most direct funding (or otherwise designated by OMB) is the cognizant agency for cost negotiation.

The only exceptions to the general rules about which agency is the cognizant agency for a grantee are indirect cost negotiations with institutions of higher education that are subject to 2 CFR, Part 220, G.11.a., "Cognizant agency assignments" (relocated to 2 CFR, Part 220 from OMB circular A-21, "Cognizant agency assignments").

B. ED imposes limitations on indirect cost rates for certain types of grants, depending on the nature of the grant or the program under which the grant was funded. For example, grantees in specific programs with legislation containing "supplement-not-supplant" provisions are subject to a "restricted" indirect cost rate. Restricted indirect cost rates are lower than the negotiated indirect cost rates because the restricted rate excludes certain general management and fixed costs that would otherwise be included in the standard indirect cost rate calculation. Sections 75.563 and 76.564-569 in EDGAR describe how to calculate restricted rates in more detail. The ED program officer for any grant program can verify whether that program is covered by restricted rate requirements. See Attachment D of this GAN for more specific information.

C. Section 75.562 of EDGAR limits the indirect cost rate to 8% for training grants, regardless of the rate negotiated with the cognizant agency. (This 8% limitation does not apply to federally recognized Indian tribes or agencies of States or local governments.) The difference between the 8% limit and the grantee's negotiated rate may not be used for cost sharing or matching purposes, charged to direct cost categories, or charged to another Federal award.

D. Some programs contain prohibitions against recovery of any indirect costs. Under grants received from one of these programs, a grantee may not charge to a direct cost category in its budget a cost that would be treated as an indirect cost in other situations, nor may those unrecovered indirect costs be charged to other Federal awards.

E. In connection with reporting indirect costs under a grant, grantees will need to review the cover sheet of the ED Grant Performance Report (ED 524B). The section, "Indirect Costs," contains four questions related to claiming indirect costs under a grant.

Grantee personnel should be sure to answer these questions accurately so that the Department can exercise properly its responsibility for fiscal oversight of its grant awards.

More extensive discussion of indirect cost rates and their relationship to ED grants can be found on the website of the Office of the Chief Financial Officer (OCFO) at:

<http://www.ed.gov/about/offices/list/ocfo/fipao/icgindex.html>

VII. Audit Requirements (§74.26, §80.26)

The Single Audit Act requires that grantees obtain a non-Federal audit of their expenditures under their Federal grants if the grantee expends more than $500,000 in Federal funds in one fiscal year. OMB Circular A-133 contains the requirements imposed on grantees for audits done in connection with the law. The full text of the most recent version of the circular can be found at:

<http://www.whitehouse.gov/omb/circulars/a133/a133.html>

The Department recommends hiring auditors who have specific experience in auditing Federal awards under the circular and the Compliance Supplement, which can be found at:

http://www.whitehouse.gov/omb/circulars/a133_compliance/01/01toc.html

OTHER CONSIDERATIONS

Some other topics of financial management covered in EDGAR that might affect particular grants include program income (§§74.24, 80.25), cost sharing or matching (§§74.23, 80.24), property management requirements for equipment and other capital expenditures (§§74.34, 80.32).

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION
Office of the Chief Financial Officer

MEMORANDUM to ED DISCRETIONARY GRANTEES

You are receiving this memorandum to remind you of Federal requirements, found in Parts 74 and 80 of the Education Department General Administrative Regulations (EDGAR), regarding cash drawdowns under your grant account.

For any cash that you draw from your Department of Education grant account, you must:

- draw down only as much cash as is necessary to meet the immediate needs of the grant project;
- keep to the minimum the time between drawing down the funds and paying them out for grant activities; and
- return to the Government the interest earned on grant funds deposited in interest-bearing bank accounts except for a small amount of interest earned each year that your entity is allowed to keep to reimburse itself for administrative expenses).

In order to meet these requirements, you are urged to:

- take into account the need to coordinate the timing of drawdowns with prior internal clearances (e.g., by boards, directors, or other officials) when projecting immediate cash needs so that funds drawn down from ED do not stay in a bank account for extended periods of time while waiting for approval;
- monitor the fiscal activity (drawdowns and payments) under your grant on a continuous basis;
- plan carefully for cash flow in your grant project during the budget period and review project cash requirements before each drawdown; and
- pay out grant funds for project activities as soon as it is practical to do so after receiving cash from the Department.

Keep in mind that the Department monitors cash drawdown activity for all grants on a weekly basis. Department staff will contact grantees who appear to have drawn down excessive amounts of cash under one or more grants during the fiscal quarter to discuss the particular situation. For the purposes of drawdown monitoring, the Department will contact grantees who have drawn down 50% or more of the grant in the first quarter, 80% or more in the second quarter, and/or 100% of the cash in the third quarter of the budget period. However, even amounts less than these thresholds could still represent excessive drawdowns for your particular grant activities in any particular quarter. Grantees determined to have drawn down excessive cash will be required to return the excess funds to the Department, along with any associated earned interest, until such time as the money is legitimately needed to pay for grant activities. If you need assistance with returning funds and interest, please contact ED's G5/GAPS Payee Hotline by calling 1-888-336-8930.

Grantees that do not follow Federal cash management requirements and/or consistently appear on the Department's reports of excessive drawdowns could be:

- designated "high-risk" grantees [EDGAR 74.14, 80.12], which could mean being placed on a "cash-reimbursement" payment method (i.e., a grantee would experience the inconvenience of having to pay for grant activities with its own money and waiting to be reimbursed by the Department afterwards);
- subject to further corrective action;
- denied selection for funding on future ED grant applications [EDGAR 75.217(d)(3)(ii)]; and/or
- debarred or suspended from receiving future Federal awards from any executive agency of the Federal government.

Depending on which type of entity your organization is, you are urged to read either §74.22 or §80.21 of EDGAR to learn more about Federal requirements related to grant payments. If you are a state or local educational agency with a grant covered by Part 80, please check with the ED staff person named in Block 3 of your Grant Award Notification to determine how to apply these requirements to any subgrantees. You are urged to make copies of this memorandum and share it with all affected individuals within your organization.

ENCLOSURE 4

June 15, 2010

To: Recipients of grants and cooperative agreements

From: Thomas Skelly, Delegated to Perform Functions of Chief Financial Officer

Subject: Department of Education Cash Management Policies for Grants and Cooperative Agreements

The purpose of this memorandum is to remind the Department of Education's (the Department's) grant and cooperative agreement recipients (recipients) of existing cash management requirements regarding payments. The Department expects that recipients will ensure that subrecipients are also aware of these policies by forwarding a copy of this memorandum to them.

There are two different sets of payment requirements that apply to the draw of funds from recipient accounts at the Department. Payments to a State under programs covered by a State's Treasury State Agreement (TSA) are subject to the requirements of the Cash Management Improvement Act of 1990 (CMIA) as published in 31 United States Code 6503.

All other payments to States and all payments to other types of recipients are subject to the requirements in either 34 Code of Federal Regulation (CFR) Part 74, applicable to nongovernmental entities, or 34 CFR Part 80, applicable to State, local, and Indian tribal governments. These regulations are part of the Education Department General Administrative Regulations (EDGAR) and are available on the Web at http://www.access.gpo.gov/nara/cfr/waisidx_08/34cfrv1_08.html.

CMIA Requirements

States that draw funds under programs subject to the CMIA must draw funds as required under the TSA for the State. If a State draws funds under one of these programs to make payments to a subrecipient, the payment request to the Department should only be made at the request of the subrecipient, which must make draw requests to the State as required under the requirements in EDGAR, as described below.

EDGAR Requirements

Payments to States under programs not covered by the State's TSA and payments to other governments are subject to the requirements in Part 80 of EDGAR. These payment requirements also apply to all other types of recipients under Part 74 of EDGAR, which applies to nonprofit organizations, institutions of higher education, hospitals, and commercial organizations. States that draw funds on behalf of subrecipients under programs not covered by a TSA should remind subrecipients that they may only request funds from the State under the payment standards in Part 74 or Part 80, as applicable.

For any cash drawn from your program or project account at the Department:

- Recipients must minimize the time between the recipient's draw down of funds from its grant account at the Department and the time the recipient disburses those funds to payees via electronic transfer, check redemption or other means of transfer. See 34 CFR 74.22(a) and 80.21(b). Specifically, recipients may only draw funds to meet the immediate cash needs of the grant or cooperative agreement.

- For recipients subject to Part 74 of EDGAR, unless the conditions described in 34 CFR Part 74 Section 22(k) exist, these recipients must deposit advances of Federal funds in interest bearing accounts.
- Recipients subject to Part 74 of EDGAR must return to the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) the interest earned on advances of grant funds except that the recipient may retain up to $250 of interest earned on the account each year to pay for the costs of maintaining the account. These requirements also apply to subrecipients subject to Part 74 Section 22 (l) which requires these recipients and subrecipients to annually remit interest earned on advances of funds. The address for interest remittances to HHS is:

U.S. Department of Health and Human Services
P.O. Box 6120
Suite 1133
Rockville, MD 20852

The remittance should be accompanied by a letter stating that the remittance is for “interest earned on Federal funds” and should include the DUNS number.

- Recipients subject to Part 80 of EDGAR must return to the Department the interest earned on advances of grant funds except that the recipient may retain up to $100 of interest earned on the account each year to pay for the costs of maintaining the account. Section 80.21(i) requires these recipients to promptly (at least quarterly) remit interest earned on advances to the Department. These requirements also apply to subrecipients subject to Part 80. The address for interest remittances to the Department is:

U.S. Department of Education
P.O. Box 979053
St. Louis, MO 63197-9000

The remittance should be accompanied by a letter stating that the remittance is for “interest earned on Federal funds” and should include the DUNS number.

- Recipients must use grant funds only for obligations incurred during the funding period.
- Recipients must distribute Federal funds to subrecipients only when requested by the subrecipient and as needed to pay program costs.

Recipients have other responsibilities regarding the use of Federal funds. We highlight the following practices related to the draw of Federal funds that are either required by EDGAR or will assist recipients in meeting their responsibilities under EDGAR.

- Recipients must regularly monitor the payment requests made by their subrecipients to ensure that those requests conform to the same payment requirements that apply to the recipient. See 34 CFR Part 80 Section 20(b)(7);
- Recipients must regularly monitor the fiscal activity of their subrecipients on a continuous basis and ensure that their subrecipients return interest earned;
- If expenditures under the program or project require the recipient's board or specified officials to approve expenditures, the recipient should obtain that approval before making the payment request for any expenditure, thus minimizing the period of time that funds remain in the recipient's bank account pending disbursement of the funds for expenditures under the program or project. See 34 CFR 74.21(b)(5) and 80.22(a); and
- Plan carefully for cash flows for your grant project and review projected cash requirements before each drawdown. See 34 CFR 74.21 and 74.22 or 80.20 and 80.21, as applicable.

Recipients that do not follow the cash management requirements applicable to their grants could be:

- Placed on a "cash-reimbursement" payment method, i.e., a recipient would have to pay for grant activities with its own money and submit documentation of the expenditures to the Department before receiving reimbursement from the Department;
- Designated a "high-risk" recipient under 34 CFR 74.14 or 80.12, as applicable, which may involve the imposition of conditions in addition to that of being placed on a reimbursement payment system;
- Subjected to further corrective action, including withholding of funds, suspension, and termination of the award. See 34 CFR 74.62 or 80.43, as applicable;
- Denied funding under future Department discretionary grant competitions. See 34 CFR Part 75 Section 217(d)(3)(ii); and
- Debarred or suspended under 34 CFR Part 85 from receiving future Federal awards from any executive agency of the Federal government.

A small number of ED grant programs have program-specific cash management and payment requirements based on the authorizing legislation or program regulations. These program-specific requirements may supplement or override the general EDGAR cash management or payment requirements. If you have any questions about your specific grant, please contact the program officer, whose contact information is on your Grant Award Notification (GAN).

ED's Office of the Chief Financial Officer will provide ongoing outreach efforts regarding cash management and payment requirements, including supplementary webinars, URL links and Frequently Asked Question sheets.

Thank you for your attention to this matter. If you have any questions, please contact Cynthia Heath at (202) 245-8043 or cynthia.heath@ed.gov

Recipients of ED Grants and Cooperative Agreements Frequently Asked Questions

Q What are the Federal Laws and Regulations on cash management?

A The Cash Management Improvement Act of 1990 (CMIA) is the overriding public law for cash management. It was enacted by Public Law 101-453, 31 U.S.C. 3335 and 6503. The implementing regulations are in Title 31 of the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR), Part 205, <http://www.fms.treas.gov/fedreg/31cfr205final.pdf>. In addition, the Education Department General Administrative Regulations (EDGAR) defines the CFR specific to administering the U.S. Department of Education's (the Department's) grants in 34 CFR, Part 74 and Part 80, http://www.access.gpo.gov/nara/cfr/waisidx_08/34cfrv1_08.html.

Q What are the CMIA requirements?

A States that draw funds under programs subject to the CMIA must draw funds as required under the Treasury-State Agreement (TSA) for the State. If a State draws funds under one of these programs to make payments to a subrecipient, the payment request to the Department should only be made at the request of the subrecipient, which must make draw requests to the State as required under the requirements in EDGAR.

Q What are the Education Department General Administrative Regulations (EDGAR) requirements?

A Payments to States and other governments under programs not covered by the State's TSA and payments to other governments are subject to the requirements in Part 80 of EDGAR. These payment requirements also apply to all other types of recipients under Part 74 of EDGAR, which applies to nonprofit organizations, institutions of higher education, hospitals, and commercial organizations. States that draw funds on behalf of subrecipients under programs not covered by a TSA should remind subrecipients that they may only request funds from the State under the payment standards in Part 74 or Part 80, as applicable. The EDGAR is available on the Web at http://www.access.gpo.gov/nara/cfr/waisidx_08/34cfrv1_08.html.

Q What is a Treasury-State Agreement (TSA)?

A A TSA documents the accepted funding techniques and methods for calculating interest agreed upon by the U.S. Department of the Treasury (Treasury) and a State. It also identifies the Federal assistance programs. The CMIA's implementing regulations at 31 CFR 205 will govern if there are any inconsistencies. A TSA will be effective until terminated, unless Treasury and a State agree to a specific termination date. Treasury or a State may terminate a TSA with 30 days written notice.

Q What if there is no TSA?

A When a State does not have a TSA in effect, default procedures will be prescribed to implement 34 CFR, subpart A. The default procedures will prescribe efficient funds transfer procedures consistent with State and Federal law and identify the covered Federal assistance programs and designated funding techniques. When the Department and a State reach agreement on some but not all Federal assistance programs administered by the State, the Department and the State may enter into a TSA for all programs on which we are in agreement and we may prescribe default procedures governing those programs on which we are unable to reach agreement.

Q What is a Federal-State Agreement?

A A Federal-State Agreement is an agreement between a State and a Federal Program Agency specifying terms and conditions for carrying out a Federal assistance program or group of programs. This is different from a TSA.

Q Who is responsible for Cash Management?

A The Department's grant and cooperative agreement recipients (recipients) are charged with the administration of Federal funds. In addition, recipients are responsible for ensuring that subrecipients are aware of cash management policies. For more information, see the recently issued Memorandum from the Chief Financial Officer on Cash Management which is posted on the ed.gov "ED Memoranda to Grantees" page at <http://www2.ed.gov/policy/fund/guid/gposbul/gposbul.html>.

Q Who is responsible for monitoring cash drawdowns to ensure compliance with cash management policies?

A Recipients must monitor their cash drawdowns and their subrecipients to assure substantial compliance to the standards of timing and amount of advances. Additionally, when considered necessary and feasible by the Federal agency, recipients may be required to report the amount of cash advances in excess of three days' needs in their hands and of their subrecipients and to provide short narrative explanations of actions taken by the recipient to reduce the excess balances.

Q How soon may I draw down funds from the G5 grants management system (G5 replaced E-Payments in December 2007)?

A Grantees are required to minimize the amount of time between the drawdown and the use of funds from their bank accounts. (See EDGAR §74.21-22 and §80.20-21.) Funds must be drawn only to meet a grantee's immediate cash needs for each individual grant. Each time you use the G5 system to draw down a payment you check a box certifying that you are adhering to cash management requirements and that the funds will be spent within 3 days. The G5 screen displays the following message: I certify, by processing this payment request and/or re-allocation, that the funds are being expended within three business days of receipt for the purpose and condition of the agreement.

Q How may I use Federal funds?

A Federal funds must be used as specified in the Grant Award Notification (GAN).

Q What if I used Federal funds for other than the specific purpose for which it was given?

A This will be deemed a disallowed expenditure, and funds (including any earned interest) must be returned to the Department.

Q What are excess cash balances?

A Excess cash balances are funds maintained at the recipient/subrecipient's level in excess of immediate (usually 3 days) needs. Excess cash balances must be promptly withdrawn from account and returned to the Department.

Q What are the consequences to recipients/subrecipients for not complying with terms of the grant award?

A If a recipient or subrecipient materially fails to comply with any term of an award, whether stated in a Federal statute or regulation, EDGAR, an assurance, a cooperative agreement, a TSA, an application, a notice of award, or elsewhere, the awarding agency may take one or more of the following actions:

- (1) Temporarily withhold cash payments pending correction of the deficiency by the recipient or subrecipient or more severe enforcement action by the awarding agency,
- (2) Disallow (that is, deny both use of funds and matching credit for) all or part of the cost of the activity or action not in compliance,
- (3) Wholly or partly suspend or terminate the current award for the recipient's or subrecipient's program,
- (4) Withhold further awards for the program, or
- (5) Take other remedies that may be legally available.

Q Who is responsible for determining the amount of interest owed to the Department?

A As set forth in 31 CFR 205.9, a TSA must include the method a State uses to calculate and document interest liabilities. A State must calculate and report interest liabilities on the basis of its fiscal year. A State must ensure that its interest calculations are auditable and retain a record of the calculations. A non-State entity must keep track of any interest earned on Federal funds and promptly remit it to the government. Also, see the June 15, 2010, memorandum from the Department's Chief Financial Officer on Department of Education Cash Management Policies for Grants and Cooperative Agreements posted at <http://www2.ed.gov/policy/fund/guid/gposbul/gposbul.html>.

Q How is interest earned on Federal funds calculated?

A If you earn interest on Federal funds, you must return the actual amount earned to the Department. If the disbursement arrangement is subject to a TSA, then the recipient must adhere to the interest calculation method specified in the TSA. Recipients that are not subject to a TSA (non-TSA recipients), along with subrecipients, must return actual interest earned on cash balances to the Department.

In some cases, non-TSA recipients or subrecipients may not be able to readily identify the actual amount and must calculate the interest earned on Federal cash balances. For these cases, here are some guiding principles for non-TSA recipients and subrecipients to consider when performing interest calculations:

- Non-TSA recipients and subrecipients should calculate interest earned on Federal cash balances using the same method that was used to determine their interest earnings on cash balances from all sources. For example, Federal interest should be calculated using the average daily balance method if this method was used to calculate interest on Federal and non-Federal cash balances (all sources).
- Federal interest should be calculated using the same interest rate at which the non-TSA recipient or subrecipient earned interest on cash balances from all sources. Because interest earned on Federal cash balances must be calculated and remitted quarterly, the rate used in these calculations should be the applicable rate for that quarter.
- The amount of interest earnings remitted to the Department should not be reduced in order to compensate for the temporary use of other non-Federal cash resources to pay Federal program costs. This is true whether the non-TSA recipient or subrecipient normally receives Federal funds through an advance or reimbursement funding method.

Q May we keep interest earned on Federal funds?

A A recipient/subrecipient subject to EDGAR 34 CFR Part 74 may keep up to $250/year of interest earned on excess Federal fund advances to cover administrative costs. All other amounts must be returned to the Department of Health and Human Services.

A recipient/subrecipient subject to EDGAR 34 Part 80 may keep up to $100/year of interest earned on excess Federal fund advances to cover administrative costs. All other amounts must be returned to the Department of Education.

Q Where should I return interest earned on Federal funds?

A Recipients subject to Part 74 of EDGAR must return to the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) the interest earned on advances of grant funds except that the recipient may retain up to $250 of interest earned on the account each year to pay for the costs of maintaining the account. These requirements also apply to subrecipients subject to Part 74 Section 22 (I), which requires these recipients and subrecipients to annually remit interest earned on advances of funds. The address for interest remittances to HHS is:

U.S. Department of Health and Human Services

P.O. Box 6120, Suite 1133
Rockville, MD 20852

Recipients subject to Part 80 of EDGAR must return to the Department the interest earned on advances of grant funds except that the recipient may retain up to $100 of interest earned on the account each year to pay for the costs of maintaining the account. Section 80.21(i) requires these recipients to promptly (at least quarterly) remit interest earned on advances to the Department. These requirements also apply to subrecipients subject to Part 80. The address for interest remittances to the Department is:

U.S. Department of Education
P.O. Box 979053
St. Louis, MO 63197-9000

Q What information should accompany my interest payment?

A Recipient/subrecipient should note their DUNS number as well as any other identifiable information specific to the award and the recipient/subrecipient.

Q Are grant recipients/subrecipients automatically permitted to draw funds in advance of the time they need to disburse funds in order to liquidate obligations?

A No. Section 80.21 of the EDGAR prescribes several methods a recipient may use to make payments to subrecipients. The State educational agency as the recipient, however, has the authority to determine which method it will use to make payments to its subrecipients within the State.

Q For formula grant programs such as ESEA Title I, for which States distribute funds to LEAs, may States choose to pay LEAs on a reimbursement basis?

A Yes. Section 80.21 of the EDGAR authorizes States to implement a payment system in which LEAs are reimbursed monthly; quarterly; or, in some cases, semi-annually. A reimbursement process is a State choice and not mandated by ED. Section 80.21 of EDGAR also allows recipients and subrecipients to be paid in advance, provided they maintain or demonstrate the willingness and ability to maintain procedures to minimize the time elapsing between the transfer of the funds and their disbursement by the recipient or subrecipient.

Q What are the exceptions to adhering to cash management requirements?

A A small number of ED grant programs have program-specific cash management and payment requirements based on the authorizing legislation or program regulations. These program-specific requirements may supplement or override the general EDGAR cash management or payment requirements. If you have any questions about your specific grant, please contact the program officer, whose contact information is on your Grant Award Notification (GAN).

Q Will the Department issue special procedures in advance if G5 plans to shut down for 3 days or more?

A Yes, the Department will issue special guidance for drawing down funds during a G5 shut down period of 3 days or more. The guidance will include cash management improvement act procedures for States and certain State institutions of higher education and procedures for grants (including Pell grants) that are not subject to CMIA. Early notice is provided to all grantees to plan accordingly.

EDGAR Advisory to Grantees

The Education Department General Administrative Regulations (EDGAR) are a compilation of regulations applicable to ED grantees, composed of Parts 74-99 of Title 34 in the U.S. Government's Code of Federal Regulations (CFR). The CD-ROM of EDGAR distributed with Grant Award Notifications since early 2009 contains the version of Part 99 [Family Educational Rights and Privacy] issued by the Department in December 2008, as well as nonprocurement debarment and suspension regulations at Part 85, issued in 2003.

Last year, the Department published a revised version of Part 99, containing numerous amendments and updates, which was effective on January 3, 2012. The revised Part 99 will be formally codified in the CFR in the last half of 2012. In the meantime, grantees are directed to the version of the revised Part 99 that can currently be found online at the Government Printing Office's e-CFR website. The e-CFR is a regularly updated, unofficial, non-legal edition of the CFR, created in partnership with the Office of the Federal Register.

In addition, the Department revised its regulations for nonprocurement debarment and suspension in March, 2012. This revision removed Part 85 from EDGAR and relocated the nonprocurement debarment and suspension regulations to another Title of the CFR, specifically 2 CFR 3485.

The Department's website contains links to the e-CFR version of the revised EDGAR Part 99, all the other parts of EDGAR, and the new 2 CFR 3485 at:

<http://www2.ed.gov/policy/fund/reg/edgarReg/edgar.html>

Grantees wishing to review the background and discussion of the changes made to in the revised Part 99 can find a link for the Department's Federal Register issuing notice on at the same web page. The Federal Register notice updates the previous notice shown in Appendix B on the EDGAR CD-ROM and contains the name and contact information for the ED staff member who can respond to inquiries about the revised Part 99.

The web page also contains a link to the Federal Register notice that issued the new nonprocurement debarment and suspension regulations at 2 CFR 3485.

MEMORANDUM to ED GRANTEES REGARDING THE USE OF GRANT FUNDS FOR CONFERENCES AND MEETINGS

You are receiving this memorandum to remind you that grantees must take into account the following factors when considering the use of grant funds for conferences and meetings:

- Before deciding to use grant funds to attend or host a meeting or conference, a grantee should:
 - Ensure that attending or hosting a conference or meeting is consistent with its approved application and is reasonable and necessary to achieve the goals and objectives of the grant;
 - Ensure that the primary purpose of the meeting or conference is to disseminate technical information, (e.g., provide information on specific programmatic requirements, best practices in a particular field, or theoretical, empirical, or methodological advances made in a particular field; conduct training or professional development; plan/coordinate the work being done under the grant); and
 - Consider whether there are more effective or efficient alternatives that can accomplish the desired results at a lower cost, for example, using webinars or video conferencing.
- Grantees must follow all applicable statutory and regulatory requirements in determining whether costs are reasonable and necessary, especially the Cost Principles for Federal grants set out at 2 CFR Part 225 (OMB Circular A-87, State, Local, and Indian Tribal Governments), (<http://www.gpo.gov/fdsys/pkg/CFR-2011-title2-vol1/xml/CFR-2011-title2-vol1-part225.xml>); 2 CFR Part 220 (OMB Circular A-21, Educational Institutions), (<http://www.gpo.gov/fdsys/pkg/CFR-2011-title2-vol1/xml/CFR-2011-title2-vol1-part220.xml>); and 2 CFR 230 (OMB Circular A-122, Non-Profit Organizations) (<http://www.gpo.gov/fdsys/pkg/CFR-2011-title2-vol1/xml/CFR-2011-title2-vol1-part230.xml>). In particular, remember that:
 - Federal grant funds cannot be used to pay for alcoholic beverages; and
 - Federal grant funds cannot be used to pay for entertainment, which includes costs for amusement, diversion, and social activities.
- Grant funds may be used to pay for the costs of attending a conference. Specifically, Federal grant funds may be used to pay for conference fees and travel expenses (transportation, per diem, and lodging) of grantee employees, consultants, or experts to attend a conference or meeting if those expenses are reasonable and necessary to achieve the purposes of the grant.
 - When planning to use grant funds for attending a meeting or conference, grantees should consider how many people should attend the meeting or conference on their behalf. The number of attendees should be reasonable and necessary to accomplish the goals and objectives of the grant.
- A grantee hosting a meeting or conference may not use grant funds to pay for food for conference attendees unless doing so is necessary to accomplish legitimate meeting or conference business.
 - A working lunch is an example of a cost for food that might be allowable under a Federal grant if attendance at the lunch is needed to ensure the full participation by conference attendees in essential discussions and speeches concerning the purpose of the conference and to achieve the goals and objectives of the project.

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION
Office of the Chief Financial Officer

- A meeting or conference hosted by a grantee and charged to a Department grant must not be promoted as a U.S. Department of Education conference. This means that the seal of the U.S. Department of Education must not be used on conference materials or signage without Department approval.
 - All meeting or conference materials paid for with grant funds must include appropriate disclaimers, such as the following:

The contents of this (insert type of publication; e.g., book, report, film) were developed under a grant from the Department of Education. However, those contents do not necessarily represent the policy of the Department of Education, and you should not assume endorsement by the Federal Government.
- Grantees are strongly encouraged to contact their project officer with any questions or concerns about whether using grant funds for a meeting or conference is allowable prior to committing grant funds for such purposes.
 - A short conversation could help avoid a costly and embarrassing mistake.
- Grantees are responsible for the proper use of their grant awards and may have to repay funds to the Department if they violate the rules on the use of grant funds, including the rules for meeting- and conference-related expenses.

Reporting Prime Awardee Executive Compensation Data

The Federal Funding Accountability and Transparency Act (FFATA) is designed to increase transparency and improve the public's access to Federal government information. To this end, FFATA requires that executive compensation data be reported for all new Federal grants funded at $25,000 or more with an award date on or after October 1, 2010. As such, grants awarded by the U.S. Department of Education are required to report executive compensation data as addressed in this grant award term:

a. Reporting Total Compensation of Recipient Executives:

1. Applicability and what to report. You must report total compensation for each of your five most highly compensated executives for the preceding completed fiscal year, if—

i. the total Federal funding authorized to date under this award is $25,000 or more;

ii. in the preceding fiscal year, you received--

(A) 80 percent or more of your annual gross revenues from Federal procurement contracts (and subcontracts) and Federal financial assistance subject to the Transparency Act, as defined at 2 CFR 170.320 (and subawards); and

(B) $25,000,000 or more in annual gross revenues from Federal procurement contracts (and subcontracts) and Federal financial assistance subject to the Transparency Act, as defined at 2 CFR 170.320 (and subawards); and

iii. The public does not have access to information about the compensation of the executives through periodic reports filed under section 13(a) or 15(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (15 U.S.C. 78m(a), 78o(d)) or section 6104 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986. (To determine if the public has access to the compensation information, see the U.S. Security and Exchange Commission total compensation filings at <http://www.sec.gov/answers/execomp.htm>.)

2. Where and when to report. You must report executive total compensation described in paragraph b.1. of this award term as part of your System for Award Management (SAM) registration profile at <http://www.sam.gov>.

- A. If this is the first award you have received that is subject to the reporting requirements in paragraph b.1., you must report by the end of the month following the month in which this award is made, and on each anniversary of this award.
- B. If you have already received an award this year that is subject to the reporting requirements in paragraph b.1., you must report executive compensation on the anniversary of the first award you received that was subject to the reporting requirement in paragraph b.1. of this condition.

- iii. Earnings for services under non-equity incentive plans. This does not include group life, health, hospitalization or medical reimbursement plans that do not discriminate in favor of executives, and are available generally to all salaried employees.
- iv. Change in pension value. This is the change in present value of defined benefit and actuarial pension plans.
- v. Above-market earnings on deferred compensation which is not tax-qualified.
- vi. Other compensation, if the aggregate value of all such other compensation (e.g. severance, termination payments, value of life insurance paid on behalf of the employee, perquisites or property) for the executive exceeds $10,000.

Registration of Data Universal Numbering System (DUNS) Number and Taxpayer Identification Number (TIN) in the System for Award Management (SAM)

The U.S. Department of Education (Education) Grants Management System (G5) will begin disbursing payments via the U.S. Department of Treasury (Treasury) rather than directly through the Federal Reserve as in the past. The U.S. Treasury requires that we include your Tax Payer Identification Number (TIN) with each payment. Therefore, in order to do business with Education you must have a registered DUNS and TIN number with the SAM, the U.S. Federal Government's primary registrant database. If the payee DUNS number is different than your grantee DUNS number, both numbers must be registered in the SAM. Failure to do so will delay the receipt of payments from Education.

A TIN is an identification number used by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) in the administration of tax laws. It is issued either by the Social Security Administration (SSA) or by the IRS. A Social Security number (SSN) is issued by the SSA whereas all other TINs are issued by the IRS.

The following are all considered TINs according to the IRS.

- Social Security Number "SSN"
- Employer Identification Number "EIN"
- Individual Taxpayer Identification Number "ITIN"
- Taxpayer Identification Number for Pending U.S. Adoptions "ATIN"
- Preparer Taxpayer Identification Number "PTIN"

If your DUNS number is not currently registered with the SAM, you can easily register by going to www.sam.gov. Please allow 3-5 business days to complete the registration process. If you need a new TIN, please allow 2-5 weeks for your TIN to become active. If you need assistance during the registration process, you may contact the SAM Federal Service Desk at 866-606-8220.

If you are currently registered with SAM, you may not have to make any changes. However, please take the time to validate that the TIN associated with your DUNS is correct.

If you have any questions or concerns, please contact the G5 Hotline at 888-336-8930.

System for Award Management and Universal Identifier Requirements

A. Requirement for System for Award Management (SAM)

Unless you are exempted from this requirement under 2 CFR 25.110, you as the recipient must maintain the currency of your information in the SAM until you submit the final financial report required under this award or receive the final payment, whichever is later. This requires that you review and update the information at least annually after the initial registration, and more frequently if required by changes in your information or another award term.

B. Requirement for Data Universal Numbering System (DUNS) Numbers

If you are authorized to make subawards under this award, you:

1. Must notify potential subrecipients that no entity (see definition in paragraph C of this award term) may receive a subaward from you unless the entity has provided its DUNS number to you.
2. May not make a subaward to an entity unless the entity has provided its DUNS number to you.

C. Definitions

For purposes of this award term:

1. System for Award Management (SAM) means the Federal repository into which an entity must provide information required for the conduct of business as a recipient. Additional information about registration procedures may be found at the SAM Internet site (currently at <http://www.sam.gov>).
2. Data Universal Numbering System (DUNS) number means the nine-digit number established and assigned by Dun and Bradstreet, Inc. (D&B) to uniquely identify business entities. A DUNS number may be obtained from D&B by telephone (currently 866-705-5711) or the Internet (currently at <http://fedgov.dnb.com/webform>).
3. Entity, as it is used in this award term, means all of the following, as defined at 2 CFR part 25, subpart C:
 - a. A Governmental organization, which is a State, local government, or Indian Tribe;
 - b. A foreign public entity;
 - c. A domestic or foreign nonprofit organization;
 - d. A domestic or foreign for-profit organization; and
 - e. A Federal agency, but only as a subrecipient under an award or subaward to a non-Federal entity.
4. Subaward:
 - a. This term means a legal instrument to provide support for the performance of any portion of the substantive project or program for which you received this award and that you as the recipient award to an eligible subrecipient.
 - b. The term does not include your procurement of property and services needed to carry out the project or program (for further explanation, see Sec. 11.210 of the attachment to OMB Circular A-133, "Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations").
 - c. A subaward may be provided through any legal agreement, including an agreement that you consider a contract.
5. Subrecipient means an entity that:
 - a. Receives a subaward from you under this award; and
 - b. Is accountable to you for the use of the Federal funds provided by the subaward.

Project Abstract

Project objectives and activities: OUSD is currently piloting a 3-tiered behavioral support system using the Positive Behavioral Intervention and Support (PBIS) framework at 26 of our 86 schools. We are proposing to take this work to scale by implementing culturally-responsive PBIS/behavioral Response to Intervention (RtI) frameworks at all OUSD schools. This continuum of positive behavioral support consists of: Tier 1 Primary Prevention—School/classroom-wide systems for all students, staff, and settings; Tier 2 Secondary Prevention—Specialized small group interventions for students with at-risk behavior, Tier 3 Tertiary Prevention—Specialized, highly individualized interventions for high-risk students.

This is a system change initiative which will lead to a shift at our schools from a reactive, exclusionary approach to behavioral management, to a focus on prevention of disruptive behavior and disciplinary incidents, restorative interventions, and behavioral support. The overall goal is to create the school climate conditions and supports to enable all students to graduate from high school and be ready for college, careers, and contributions to their communities.

Full implementation at a school site is a 3-year process. We will roll it out in cohorts of 10 schools: 1 cohort each in Years 1-3, 2 cohorts in Years 4, and 1 in Year 5. Each school will form a School Culture and Climate Team to lead implementation. Northwest PBIS, an expert technical assistance provider, will provide professional development and coaching for site Team members and district PBIS coaches, who will provide on-site coaching to support implementation. Site teams will engage school students, families, and other stakeholders, in shaping the behavioral expectations, positive reinforcement strategies, alternatives to suspensions, and other tiered interventions so they are culturally responsive to each school community and equitable for all.

Applicable priorities: OUSD's initiative addresses the Absolute Priority for this program in that we are proposing to develop or enhance multi-tiered behavioral frameworks to improve school climate at all schools within the LEA, and to provide support and technical assistance to the schools to facilitate this effort. Our proposal addresses Competitive Preference Priority 1, as the PBIS framework implemented with School Climate Transformation Grant funding will be coordinated with other related activities in the target schools. For instance, restorative justice, social-emotional learning, and school-based mental health programs, funded through multiple city, county, state, and private funding streams, will be integrated into Tiers 2 and 3 of this framework to help improve behavioral and other outcomes for high-need students across OUSD.

Proposed outcomes: Goal 1: OUSD students will attend, behave responsibly, and be highly engaged in school. 1:1-Schools will improve their attendance rate each year. 1:2-Chronic absenteeism will decline by 10% each year. 1:3-Office disciplinary referrals and suspensions will decline 10% each year. 1:4-There will be no disproportionality in suspensions by 2018-19. 1:5-The % of students who feel a strong sense of connection to their school will increase by 5% every year. 2: OUSD students will succeed in school. 2:1-Students meeting standards in ELA and Math will increase by at least 2 % points each year. 2:2-Each year there will be a 25% increase in the number of students who enroll in Linked Learning programs. 2:3-OUSD's graduation rate will increase by at least 2 % points/year and the cohort dropout rate will increase by 3 points each year. 3: OUSD schools will build, sustain, and inform tiered behavioral support systems. 3:1-By 2019, all OUSD schools will have multi-tiered behavioral support systems. 3:2-The systems will be sustained beyond the grant period. 3:3-Lessons learned will help other LEAs transform school cultures so they optimally support student learning.

Number and location of proposed sites: 60 OUSD schools will implement culturally-responsive PBIS/behavioral RtI frameworks through this initiative. The 26 other OUSD schools already piloting these frameworks will strengthen implementation via use of a new universal Office Disciplinary Referral form, data reports to guide improvements, and ongoing lessons learned. Thus the initiative will include all 86 OUSD non-charter schools serving grades K-12.

Number of participants to be served: 37,040 students; 2,160 educators.

Program Narrative

(a) Significance

(i) Building capacity to address the target population's needs. Oakland Unified School District is a high-need urban district, serving Oakland (population 400,740), across the Bay from San Francisco, with 37,040 students at 86 K-12 schools. 71% of our students are economically disadvantaged; 88% are minorities, the largest groups Latinos (38%) and African Americans (30%); 30% are English Learners, with 40 languages represented; and 10% receive Special Education services. Up to 45% of students live in single parent homes, kinship care situations, or foster care. Moreover, Oakland is plagued by gang activity and violence, and the highest violent crime rates among California's 10 largest cities. Many students face multiple, severe challenges – poverty, immigration-related stressors, family and housing instability, incarcerated parents, loss of family members or friends due to gun violence, chronic traumatic stress, addiction, racism, juvenile justice system involvement, and associated social, behavioral, and mental health problems – that need to be addressed to enable them to fully engage in and succeed in school.

While these barriers are formidable, OUSD has had the greatest improvements in student achievement of any large urban district in California the past eight years in a row.

From 2003 to 2013, the percentage of our students achieving proficiency in English Language Arts increased from 19% to 43%, and in Math, from 21% to 41%. Nonetheless, our students' academic skills still lag well below those of their peers county- and state-wide, as shown in the graph. White and Asian students fare far better than African-Americans, Latinos, and English Learners (second graph).

These achievement gaps have been reflected in disparities in disciplinary actions. African-American students, in particular, have been suspended from school at disproportionately high rates. In 2010-11, African-American males comprised 17% of all OUSD students but 42% of those suspended and were suspended at six times the rate for white males (18% vs. 3%) and more than three times the district-wide 5.6%. In 2011-12, African-Americans made up 32% of all students but 63% of those suspended. African-Americans with suspensions are less likely than other students to score proficient in ELA or Math – not surprising, since up to half of this group have a pattern of multiple suspensions per year over multiple years, with the corresponding loss of time in the classroom.¹

In 2011-12, OUSD began to carry out our ambitious 5-year (2011-2016) Strategic Plan, with the overall goal to ensure all students graduate from high school ready for college, careers, and contribution to their communities. Our central strategy to achieve that goal is to transform OUSD into a district of Full-Service Community Schools that integrate a strong academic program with social, health, and other services and supports that address students’ and their families’ needs. One key focus of this effort is to create a positive school culture and climate that optimally supports student learning. In a subset of OUSD schools, we are piloting a dual Response to Intervention (RtI) model, to address students’ academic needs on the one hand and their social-emotional and behavioral needs and challenges on the other. We are using Positive Behavioral Intervention and Support (PBIS) as a framework for the behavioral RtI approach, which is consistent with the evidence-based multi-tiered behavioral framework for improving learning conditions required by the School Climate Transformation Grant program. We are piloting other preventive strategies to promote students’ social-emotional learning and well-being – such as a Restorative Justice program, Manhood Development classes (part of our African-American Male Achievement Initiative), and trauma-informed services and wraparound supports – and thereby improve students’ engagement and success in school.

Since September 2012, OUSD has been carrying out a Voluntary Resolution Plan with the U.S. Dept. of Ed’s Office of Civil Rights to address our disproportionate suspension of African-American students. That Office offered us the chance to resolve this issue through a voluntary agreement rather than a compulsory one, in recognition of these and other practices and policy changes we have implemented to address the disproportionality and larger school climate issues that are inextricable from student learning outcomes. These efforts have yielded dramatic improvements in the longstanding disproportionately and OUSD’s high number of suspensions (Table 1). Lost days of instruction for African-American males dropped from 5,860 in 2010-11 to 1,504 in 2012-13.

During that period, our dropout rate declined from 28% to 22%, with a greater progress for African-Americans (31% to 24%). Still, OUSD continues to have high rates of truancy and suspensions (Table 2), and 11% of students are chronically absent (missing 10+% of school days), known risk factors for dropping out.² Our graduation rate is well below and our dropout rate far higher than county- and state-wide. These outcomes are associated with widespread stressors and risk behaviors and a shortage of protective factors that can help keep youth engaged in school and out of danger (Table 3).

Many OUSD schools struggle to create safe and supportive learning environments. We have piloted tiered behavioral support systems in some highest-need schools (see below). Many educators need professional development to equip them to implement such a system, and to use preventive practices and effective responses to behavioral incidents in their work with students. Many students lack access to a social-emotional learning program to help them communicate effectively and get along well with their peers, develop supportive relationships with adults at school, regulate their behavior, and peacefully solve problems that arise. Some schools are not yet equipped or efficient at linking students with behavioral and mental health challenges to supports such as counseling and case management.

We propose to take the evidence-based practices we have piloted, and that are already showing very positive results, to scale, to create the conditions and supports in all our schools to enable all students to graduate from high school ready for college, careers, and the community.

(ii) Magnitude of results to be attained. As of the 2013-14 school year, 26 of OUSD's 86 schools are piloting a PBIS framework as a system for multi-tiered behavioral Response to Intervention structures. These schools are at different stages of PBIS implementation: either in year 1 (developing Tier 1 systems and practices), year 2 (implementing Tier 1 and 2 supports), or year 3 (implementing and refining Tiers 1- 3). We are now proposing to implement in every OUSD school the PBIS 3-tiered behavioral support systems we have been piloting in a cohort of schools, while completing implementation at schools where these system changes are already underway. (Of our 86 schools, all but 11 are "high-poverty schools" as defined in the SCTG guidelines; 4 are persistently lowest-achieving schools, and 11 are "priority schools" pursuant to the CORE waiver approved by the Dept. of Education. Please see list titled "OUSD Schools – High-Need Criteria" in Attachments page A-53.)

OUSD data show that each time a student is suspended, his/her chances of being suspended again increase. The proposed project entails shifting schools from a punitive approach to student behavioral management to a preventive approach. Educators will gain tools to guide and supportively manage their students' behavior, while students' will learn social-emotional skills and gain access to more intensive behavioral supports when needed. This project is as a major, district-wide reform effort entailing dramatic system changes and improvements in school culture, and we are confident it will lead to correspondingly positive outcomes in student achievement. As detailed below, we are setting ambitious outcome objectives for improving school safety and attendance; decreasing disciplinary referrals, suspensions, expulsions, and disproportionality in disciplinary measures; and improving academic outcomes aligned with OUSD's overall goal of ensuring students graduate ready for college, career, and community. We are highly encouraged by our improved outcomes since OUSD initiated PBIS, restorative justice, and other school climate reforms in our highest need schools, including (as noted earlier) substantial drops in suspensions for African-American students and overall, with the corresponding reductions in lost days of instruction, and reductions in the dropout rate overall and among African-American students. We also expect the improved school climates in which students feel safe, supported, and connected to their school will help reduce chronic absenteeism, leading to further increases in instructional time for students. These gains will be strongest for students at highest-risk of chronic absence, suspension, and other negative outcomes – such as African Americans, those with disabilities, and students in the foster care system. The reductions in missed school days will increase our Average Daily Attendance revenues from the state, which our district will be able to invest in improving the conditions for learning associated with high quality engaged instruction and tiered systems of intervention and support that promote student achievement, graduation, and college and career readiness. Over the long run, by keeping students in school, we will disrupt the “school-to-prison pipeline,” since young people ages 16-24 who have disengaged from and dropped out of school are the most likely to be involved in violent crime and with the criminal justice systems. This will improve the safety of Oakland’s inner city communities and lower the risk for our young people of becoming perpetrators and/or victims of violence and crime, which in turn, will help to eliminate barriers to learning posed by trauma and its corresponding, emotional and behavioral health issues leading to poor educational outcomes.

(iii) System change/improvement. This project is fundamentally a system change initiative. PBIS, the framework for a tiered behavioral support system we will implement district-wide, serves as a catalyst to engage districts and school sites in the team- and consensus-building required to produce a coherent system of behavior and discipline management at each school. It will lead to a shift at our schools from a reactive, exclusionary approach to behavioral management to a preventive, supportive approach that also serves as an early warning system. In schools where we are utilizing PBIS, we are seeing a significant shift away from crisis intervention and referrals of students for expulsion or more restrictive levels of care, to a focus on prevention of disruptive behavior and disciplinary incidents, restorative interventions, and behavioral support.

This systemic approach has several key components: defining and teaching appropriate behaviors; positively reinforcing pro-social behavior; developing a hierarchy of alternatives to suspension that is clear to all and applied consistently; use of small group and individualized interventions (tiers 2 and 3) for students who do not respond to universal supports (tier 1); and documenting disciplinary incidents and using the data to solve problems, target resources, and refine practice. To implement PBIS we will put in place reforms that are themselves system changes: (1) creation of a School Culture & Climate Team at each school to plan, guide, and continuously improve implementation; (2) a collaborative approach with input from students, parents, and community partners to define behavioral expectations and create lessons to teach them, and define positive reinforcements and supportive interventions that are culturally sensitive and appropriate for each school; (3) development of a district-wide discipline handbook and revised policies; (4) use of a new Universal Office Discipline Referral Form to capture detailed data on incidents and interventions, linked to the district's student database, equipped to print out "dashboard" reports for school teams and district administrators to use in data-based decision-making; (5) use of evidence-based tools to assess both a site's readiness for implementation and the fidelity of implementation and identify gaps to be addressed; and (6) leveraging school-based mental health services for tier 2 and tier 3 interventions, and to augment their role in providing consultation to teachers, parents, and administrators on trauma informed practices which improve overall school climate and in turn on boost student achievement.

In the process of implementing this culturally responsive PBIS/RtI system, we will build capacity in the district and each school to sustain this system and continually improve school climate. Expert-provided professional development (PD) and coaching will develop cadres of trained, experienced staff at the district level (PBIS coaches) and each school (Culture & Climate Team leaders and members) who will train and support their colleagues. PD and coaching will build the skills of educators across OUSD to develop and implement the components of PBIS; build caring relationships with students; promote students' social-emotional skills; use restorative and other evidence-based practices to manage and correct student behavior; and use student data at the site and district level to continually improve the behavioral support systems and guide replication of best practices within OUSD and in other districts.

(b) Project Services

(i) Project goals and objectives. Our project goals and outcome targets align with the SCTG program performance measures and OUSD's district-wide goals under our Strategic Plan.

Goal 1: OUSD students will attend, behave responsibly, and be highly engaged in school.

Objective 1:1—Schools will improve their attendance rate each year. 1:2—Chronic absenteeism will decline by 10% each year. 1:3—Office disciplinary referrals and suspensions will decline 10% each year. 1:4—There will be no disproportionality in suspensions by 2018-19. 1:5—The % of students who feel a strong sense of connection to their school will increase by 5% every year. (Indicators: OUSD student data for 1:1-4, California Healthy Kids Survey results for 1:5).

Goal 2: OUSD students will succeed in school. 2:1—Students meeting standards in ELA and Math will increase by at least 2 % points each year. 2:2—Each year there will be a 25% increase in the number of students who enroll in Linked Learning programs. 2:3—OUSD's graduation rate will increase by at least 2 % points/year and the cohort dropout rate will increase by 3 points each year. (Indicators: State test results for 2:1, OUSD student data for 2:2-2:3.)

Goal 3: OUSD schools will build, sustain, and inform tiered behavioral support systems. 3:1—By 2019, all OUSD schools will have multi-tiered behavioral support systems. 3:2—The systems will be sustained beyond the grant period. 3:3—OUSD will share lessons learned with other LEAs to transform school cultures so they optimally support student learning. (Indicators: PBIS Team Implementation Checklist, BAT 3:1, reports from Behavioral Health office, 3:2-3).

Note: Table 4 presents OUSD baseline data (2013-14) for ED’s performance measures for the SCTG program. We provide our yearly targets in Attachments page A-57. (1) Baseline # of schools that have implemented a multi-tiered behavioral support system with fidelity is the number in OUSD’s current PBIS cohort, which are receiving support to implement the system and using specific tools to monitor implementation and address gaps. The annual targets are ambitious in that they assume success in implementing a major school reform effort at increasing numbers of schools over time, yet achievable because we have a track record in successful implementation at many sites and are allocating the requisite PD and coaching for this effort. (2) We do not have a valid district-wide baseline for office disciplinary referrals (ODRs). This year we are piloting use of a universal ODR form at several schools and will implement it district-wide in fall 2014. This will enable us to establish baseline ODR numbers at every school and district- wide by the end of the 2014-15 school year. It will be valid because there will be a uniform process, protocol, and progress monitoring system for entering and tracking of ODRs. All staff will receive training in using the form and be required to collect this data routinely. Data on referrals entered will be fed back to each school monthly. School Culture & Climate Teams will use protocols to analyze and respond to these data bi-weekly. Bi-annual reporting will be required by and provided to the Office of Civil Rights to verify the data are being collected and track progress on reducing referrals through use of pre-referral interventions. The annual targets are ambitious yet achievable as they will parallel implementation of Tier 1 preventive supports in successive cohorts of schools and because teachers will use supportive interventions as alternatives to ODRs. (3) Baseline numbers for at-

Table 4. Perf. measures: Baseline
Schools implementing tiered behav. support system with fidelity: 26
Office disciplinary referrals: NA
Attendance rate: 95.33%
Suspensions: 1,928 incidents; 229 (7%) for possession or use of drugs or alcohol; students suspended: 5.3% ; total suspension days: 7,470
Expulsions: 15; 1 for drugs/alcohol tendance rate, suspensions, and expulsions are all valid because OUSD routinely collects and enter these data into our student information system per Ed Code requirements. The annual targets are ambitious yet achievable since we are approaching this systemically as opposed to in silos, and with a focus on primary prevention. By establishing the conditions for engaged learning in the classroom and responding to inappropriate behavior from a trauma-informed, behavioral support approach, we will reduce dependence on exclusionary discipline and thereby eliminate the byproducts including lost instructional time due to suspension, expulsion, and truancy brought on by a sense of being disconnected and unwanted at school.

(ii) Project strategies. OUSD will implement or strengthen the ongoing implementation of a multi-tiered behavioral support system for all students, and sustain these systems beyond the grant period, at all 86 OUSD schools, of which 75 are high-need schools, as follows.

At each school, we will use the PBIS framework and protocols as the basis of an integrated, culturally responsive continuum of behavioral supports. PBIS is a systematic approach to proactive, school-wide behavior based on an RtI model, consisting of 3 tiers of prevention: Tier 1 Primary Prevention—School/classroom-wide systems for all students, staff, and settings; Tier 2 Secondary Prevention—Mentoring and small group interventions for students with at-risk behavior, Tier 3 Tertiary Prevention—Specialized, individualized interventions for high-risk students. Tier 2 and 3 supports are for students who do not respond to the “universal” supports in Tier 1.

Tier 1 approaches will be implemented to create a positive school climate that reduces and prevents behavioral problems. They will include school-wide behavior expectations and routines; systematic supervision in all school settings; reinforcement systems to acknowledge desired behavior; use of a hierarchy of consequences; and promotion of students’ social and emotional learning. School stakeholders will collaboratively define the particulars of these strategies, and adults at the school will teach them to students and use them consistently school-wide.

Social-emotional skills development is another Tier 1 strategy we will use to promote positive school climates and strengthen students' ability to fully engage in learning. As part of OUSD's participation in the nationwide Collaborative for Academic, Social, and Emotional Learning (CASEL; see below), we have formalized these skills in a set of standards, specifically: self-awareness, self-management, social awareness, relationship skills, and responsible decision making, with corresponding positive behaviors that reflect each one. Teachers will work to integrate these standards into their delivery of the Common Core standards with the goal of seamlessly incorporating social-emotional learning with academic instruction.

Tier 2 interventions for students who have not responded to the behavioral expectations and demands of the school environment, will consist of counseling, mentoring, and small group instruction aimed at helping students develop the skills and supports needed to meet school-wide behavioral expectations. Students assigned to mentoring will have daily check-ins with an adult at school (such as school psychologist, intervention specialist, or outreach specialist), to set behavioral goals, receive coaching and positive reinforcement and engage with a caring adult. Small group interventions, typically weekly or more frequent sessions led by school-based mental health providers, will focus on helping students develop the social-emotional skills needed to regulate their behavior, resolve conflicts peacefully and receive instruction from adults at school.

As another Tier 2 intervention, OUSD will expand our restorative justice cohort from 24 schools currently to all 86 by 2018-19. This community building and conflict mediation program uses restorative practices to respond to student misconduct with the goal of repairing harm and restoring relationships between those affected. Manhood Development life skills class series, part of our African-American Male Achievement Initiative, will also expand to provide targeted support to black males to promote academic achievement and mentor students to better manage peer and adult relationships. Both approaches will promote better attendance, social-emotional learning, behavior at school, and academic outcomes.

Tier 3 interventions, for students whose have not responded to Tier 2 efforts, typically those with chronic trauma or related disorders, will be intensive and individualized. A behavior specialist or school-based mental health provider will conduct a functional behavioral assessment (utilizing a formal Functional Analysis Screening Tool) and work with the student, teacher or other school staff, and the parents/guardians to develop a behavior support plan (please see Attachments pages A-81-87). This will include some or all of the following measures: environmental changes, behavior reinforcement strategies, individual counseling, family consultation, case management, and wraparound support to address student and family needs. Support will be ongoing, with regular teacher meetings, counseling sessions and family consultation. Counseling will employ trauma-informed approaches as appropriate. The clinician and classroom teacher will work collaboratively to monitor the student's progress and adjust the behavior support plan as appropriate.

Referral process. A key component of the PBIS approach is that teachers establish clear and consistent rules and expectations and reinforce them positively throughout the day. For students who struggle to meet these expectations, teachers will employ at least 3 supportive interventions prior to making an office discipline referral. They will include strategies such as re-teaching desired behaviors, 5-1 positive reinforcement, behavior contract, parent consultation, collaborative problem-solving, or a restorative conversation. When an ODR is made, school administrators may directly refer the student for Tier 2 interventions, or utilize multidisciplinary teams at the school (Student Study Teams and/or Coordination of Services Teams) to help assess and link the student to needed services. These teams will also be called on for referrals to Tier 3 interventions when students have not benefitted from Tier 2 interventions.

Supporting evidence. Developed at the University of Oregon, PBIS is an application of a behaviorally-based systems approach to enhance the capacity of schools, families, and communities to shape effective environments for teaching and learning, using research-validated practices. PBIS focuses on creating and sustaining school-wide, classroom, and individual systems of support that improve behavioral and academic outcomes and success for all children and youth by making problem behaviors less effective, efficient, and relevant, and desired behavior more functional.³ It has been implemented in thousands of schools in over 40 states, resulting in substantial reductions in disciplinary referrals and suspensions and increases in academic achievement.⁴ In OUSD, it has been instrumental in helping us dramatically reduce suspensions, as well as referrals to disciplinary hearing panels and expulsions, since we began employing it at cohort sites in 2011. The use of restorative practices and other social-emotional learning approaches in schools, components of our tiered behavioral support system, have been shown to decrease referrals for suspension and expulsion; to increase students' and staff's feeling of safety at school, attendance rates, and teacher retention; promote caring student-teacher relations; and to improve students' motivation, study skills, and academic performance.⁵

Cohort roll out and school selection. 26 OUSD schools are now implementing a three-tiered behavioral support system using the PBIS framework, in a 3-year process: Year 1- Developing Tier 1 Systems; Year 2: Implementing Tier 1 and 2; Year 3: Implementing Tiers 1-3. We propose to extend this work district-wide, working with cohorts of 10 schools. In each of Years 1-3, there will be 1 such new cohort added, with an additional 2 cohorts added in Year 4 and a final cohort in year 5. Therefore, by the end of the project, 6 cohorts of 10 or more schools each (60 schools in all) will have completed or be progressing on the 3-year PBIS implementation process. We will use the "School-wide Positive Behavior Support: Training Readiness Checklist for Individual Schools" (see Attachments page A-88) to help select schools for these cohorts, and help schools not yet ready to identify gaps in readiness and take steps to be ready for implementation as part of later cohorts. At the same time we will continue and complete implementation at the 26 schools in our current PBIS cohorts, where site Teams will deepen their implementation through use of the OUSD's new universal ODR Form and data reports, and lessons learned in their own experience and in the larger roll out of the three-tiered PBIS/culturally responsive RtI systems across OUSD.

Implementation process. Each school will form a School Culture and Climate Team to lead implementation. It will include an administrator, one or more lead teachers, a classified staffer (e.g., intervention specialist, school nurse, School Security Officer), a family outreach person and/or parent leader, staff from CBO partners, such as the school's mental health provider and after-school program lead, and a student representative at the secondary school level. Teams will receive professional development to support implementation (see below); convene their site staff for training and implementation activities; and each site will have ongoing coaching.

Schools will devote Year 1 of implementation to putting in place the Tier 1 system. Led by its School Culture & Climate Team, each school will define its school-wide behavioral expectations, measures to reinforce desired behavior, and hierarchy of responsive interventions. It will develop a handbook covering expected conduct and how behavior will be managed at the school, emphasizing supports rather a punitive approach, and distribute it to families; create lesson plans for teaching and reinforcing the expected behaviors and other components; and launch the Tier 1 system. While launching Tier 1, Teams will receive training on Tier 2 and 3 supports, which they will implement and refine in Years 2 and 3. Teams guiding Tier 2 and 3 interventions will include individuals who address problem behaviors, such as assistant principals, mental health partners, school psychologists, and resource specialists. Each school will identify site staff to serve as mentors to students needing support.

Equal access and treatment for traditionally underrepresented participants. OUSD is committed to implementing PBIS systems that are culturally responsive – and therefore equitable for students from all groups, especially those (e.g., African-American males, socioeconomically disadvantaged students, English Learners, foster youth) who often face barriers to full access to school programs and opportunities. PBIS is not a race-neutral framework. It is shaped by the school site and school community, with parent representatives and CBO partners part of an inclusive process to define the school's core values, behavioral expectations, positive reinforcements, and progressive discipline. This helps ensure these elements reflect the diverse cultural beliefs, norms, and values of the school's students, families, and staff. One benchmark we use to measure the fidelity of PBIS implementation is the requirement of 80% buy-in at the school site. Rules, expectations, and consequences also have to be vetted by the PTA and, in secondary schools, the student community, before a Tier 1 system is launched. Moreover, coaching to support implementation explicitly addresses cultural awareness and competence – to help school staff unpack and understand race- or socioeconomic class-related differences in behavioral norms and standards; how factors such as stereotyping, unconscious bias, and misperceptions of student actions may affect their own interaction with students and responses to behavioral issues; how racial minority students' ways of knowing, behaving, and being are often devalued or pathologized; and to effectively teach and support students from different cultures. We also design Tier 2 and Tier 3 interventions through an equity lens. Personnel who lead small group interventions, restorative justice circles, Manhood Development classes, and mental health services are selected for their understanding of and skills in working with students and families from disadvantaged groups, and receive professional development in providing culturally relevant services. Finally, we engage families from the start of Tier 2 and 3 interventions to elicit their perspective on their child's behavior and needs; ensure they know the purpose of the intervention, how it works, and their role in it; ask them whom they think should be involved in an intervention; and maintain communication to make this collaboration as effective as possible.

Professional development and coaching to support implementation. OUSD is contracting with a technical assistance provider, Northwest PBIS Network, to help put in place tiered behavioral support systems at our schools and scale PBIS district-wide. NW PBIS, a non-profit organization, is an outgrowth of the work at University of Oregon to develop PBIS. NW PBIS will provide 4 quarterly trainings for each cohort of 10 schools plus 2 days of training in summer to site PBIS Team members to guide them in building and refining their multi-tiered behavioral framework. Through a “train the trainers” approach, teams will be assigned tasks to progressively move implementation forward at their sites, will train their entire school staff in PBIS, and engage the staff in defining and setting up the tiered systems.

Through our relationship with NW PBIS, we have developed a cadre of trained, experienced coaches who provide coaching to site-based PBIS Teams. We will expand this cadre by hiring 3 new PBIS coaches, who will be trained by NW PBIS, and assigned to provide on-site coaching to cohorts of 10 schools each to support PBIS implementation. In addition, in Years 2, 3, and 4 of the project, we plan to send 25 site PBIS Team leaders to the NW PBIS Conference for further professional development (PD) and technical assistance.

Other PD will support the effectiveness of components of the tiered behavioral support systems. OUSD’s behavioral health unit will train and coach staff at the school sites to develop effective Coordination of Services Teams, and to facilitate restorative justice circles and implement restorative practices within the classroom. As the district advances in its CASEL work, teachers will have PD on integrating social-emotional learning into classroom instruction.

Use of data and technology. The new Universal ODR Form (please see Attachments page A-76) OUSD is piloting this year and will roll it out district-wide in fall 2014 emerged out of the PBIS initiative. We have customized our AERIES student information system so it can easily capture all information gathered on this form, and have built in the ability of each school site to produce data reports utilizing AERIES (see Attachment pages A-77-80). This will allow us to identify a variety of systemic factors related to how well Tier 1 is being implemented, as well as student-related problems. The data will enable school teams to analyze when ODRs for behavior are occurring, where, and why? What is the function of the behavior – e.g., avoidance of work, attention seeking? Which students are getting the most office referrals? Which teachers are making the majority of the referrals? What behavioral interventions have they attempted? School Culture & Climate Teams will be able to generate real-time reports they can use for decision-making. For example, if we see many kids are being referred from the hallways after lunch, it will indicate we need to change our supervision there. If one teacher is making the majority of referrals, we can target PD and coaching support for her/ him. If particular children are receiving repeated referrals, we can wrap Tier 2 interventions around them. Another innovative use of technology OUSD is piloting, in partnership with Trumpet Behavioral Health, is an online tool, Insights to Behavior, to create individualized behavior support plans and monitor whether a student's Tier 3 intervention is being implemented consistently and with positive effect. Behavior specialists employed by the district consult with teachers and parents to implement targeted behavioral support and assist in addressing root causes for behavior including lagging skills and exposure to trauma.

Linkage to other school safety and school improvement efforts. Building positive school climates to promote student attendance, engagement, and learning, is one of the key priorities of OUSD's Strategic Plan. In addition to OUSD's ongoing work piloting PBIS, this project will incorporate and leverage other district initiatives to support positive school climate and school safety. OUSD's Behavioral Health unit houses several school-based initiatives that will be part of the project: Coordination of Services Teams; our Restorative Justice initiative; and clinical counseling, case management; and crisis intervention services. OUSD's African-American Male Achievement Initiative, designed to eliminate social, behavioral, and academic inequities among black males, includes the Manhood Development Program, which combines, life skills classes and case management for students and parent training to advocate for their children.

OUSD is also committed to promoting students' social-emotional skills as key pillars of their success in school and preparation for college, careers, and the community. OUSD is one of LEAs in the California Office to Reform Education (CORE), which has received an NCLB Waiver from the U.S. Department of Education. The CORE Accountability Model incorporates social-emotional learning (SEL) as well as school culture and climate factors along with academic outcomes. In the coming years, the CORE districts will be piloting promising SEL practices, programs, and interventions, and SEL assessments, around competencies such as self-management, social awareness, self-efficacy, and growth mindset – consistent with the competencies we will seek to promote through our tiered behavioral support system. As noted, OUSD is one of a handful of districts across the nation to participate in the CASEL initiative, which over time is building our capacity to support children’s social-emotional development.

While promoting students’ SEL is a high-priority of our strategic plan, OUSD believes “the best discipline policy is engaged instruction.” Several ongoing initiatives are focused on making our academic programs more engaging, relevant, and rigorous. We are progressing toward our vision for a Full-Service Community Schools district, in which schools combine strong academic programs with social, health, and other supports to give students the best chance at success. Thus far we have transformed 24 of our schools into FSCSs. We are in the process of aligning our curriculum and instruction with the Common Core State Standards. We also have ongoing large-scale Balanced Literacy, Secondary Literacy, and Middle School Math initiatives. Along with the behavioral RtI systems we are building, we are implementing academic RtI programs with tiered supports for students who are struggling academically. At the same time, Our “Linked Learning” initiative further supports students to graduate ready for college and careers. High school students can participate in career academies that combine rigorous academic programs with real-world work-based learning opportunities in many career fields. OUSD is part of a regional consortium awarded a $15 million Career Pathways grant from the California Dept. of Ed in May 2014 that will support us to strengthen these programs, including launching linked learning in K-8 schools. In the coming years this work will expand to benefit students districtwide.

Coordination with/leveraging other resources (Competitive Preference Priority 1).

OUSD will continue to allocate Special Education funds related to disproportionality and other district monies to complete PBIS implementation at the schools where this is underway, and for PD (e.g., for classroom management, trauma informed practices) to support this project. We will leverage various funding streams to provide Tier 2 and 3 behavioral services, including over $14 million in Medi-Cal funding through the Alameda County Health Services and Behavioral Health Services (see attached Letters of Agreement); Medi-Cal Administrative Activities-LEA funding, and the City of Oakland's Oakland Fund for Children and Youth and Measure Y initiatives. We will also leverage funding from East Bay Community Foundation, California Endowment, Atlantic Philanthropies, Stuart Foundation, Kapor Center for Social Impact, the City of Oakland, and other sources for the restorative justice and Manhood Development components of our tiered behavioral support system, and funding from NoVo Foundation for our participation in CASEL.

Collaboration with appropriate partners. OUSD will engage the Northwest PBIS Network to provide technical assistance for this project. Our schools partner with local CBOs to provide school-based behavioral health services. Agencies that provide these services at multiple OUSD schools include East Bay Agency for Children, Lincoln Child Center, Ann Martin Center, Seneca Center, Community Health for Asian Americans, Asian Community Mental Health Services, Girl's Inc., and Oakland Children's Hospital. OUSD will also continue to partner with Restorative Justice for Oakland Youth and SEEDS Community Resolution Center to support the expansion and implementation of restorative justice practices in OUSD.

(c) Management Plan

(i) Project management and work plan. This project will be housed in OUSD's Family, Schools, & Community Partnerships Department, overseen by Barbara McClung, OUSD Director of Behavioral Initiatives since 2011 and Manager of Support Services from 2007-11. Ms. McClung coordinates the implementation of PBIS, restorative justice, school-based mental health services, violence prevention programs, and other district behavioral health initiatives. She is a prior director of youth and adult programs, clinical supervisor, and school based therapist. A .5 FTE Project Manager (PM) (to be hired), will manage the day-to-day implementation, supervised by Ms. McClung. The PM will schedule and coordinate the project's PD and coaching activities; supervise the PBIS coaches; liaise with NW PBIS and the evaluator (WestEd); be responsible for data collection on project implementation and outcomes; manage the grant budget; and provide reporting to the grantor. Requirements for this position include a background in behavioral health care, prior project management experience, preferably in a public school setting, and experience, competence, and comfort working with multicultural, high-need communities.

OUSD will hire three individuals to serve as full-time PBIS Coaches with experience in implementing tiered behavioral supports... Each coach will receive training from NW PBIS and be deployed to provide on-site coaching to PBIS teams from cohorts of 10 schools. (Please see attached resumes and job descriptions for key project personnel/positions.)

(ii) Mechanisms to ensure high-quality products and services. We have selected NW PBIS as the training and TA provider because of its proven expertise in equipping urban school districts and schools to implement high-quality PBIS and its ongoing work with OUSD to implement systems of tiered supports within the RtI framework. Each site Team will have ongoing coaching to assist it in implementing high-quality and culturally relevant PBIS systems. Other measures to ensure the services are of high quality include: (1) use of a universal ODR form developed through the national PBIS work and real-time data reports schools can use to refine services and target resources where needed; (2) use of several evidence-based structured tools customized to support implementation (PBIS Team Implementation Checklist, School Assessment Survey, and Benchmarks for Advanced Tiers (BAT) for the purposes of assessing school readiness for PBIS, identifying gaps that need to be addressed, determining level of stakeholder buy-in, and evaluating and guiding fidelity of implementation; and 3) tier 3 data generated through use of the Insights to Behavior Functional Behavioral Assessment and planning tool to help staff monitor and hone the effectiveness of behavioral support plans implemented in the classroom.

(iii) Use of diversity of perspectives to guide the project. Site Teams that will lead the planning and implementation of the PBIS system at their school and train their colleagues, will include the principal, lead teachers, intervention specialists, psychologists, parent representatives, CBO partners, and others chosen at the site, to ensure project services incorporate a diversity of perspectives, fit the culture of the school site, and are accessible and equitable for all students. PD and coaching will assist site Teams to engage a diversity of stakeholders and use their input to plane and refine services. Schools entering in years 4 and 5 will receive sustained support through district supported coaching following the completion of this grant. By year 5 OUSD will be a PBIS District incorporating behavioral Response to Intervention in every K-12 school.

(d) Project Evaluation

(i) Methods are thorough, feasible, appropriate to goals and objectives. OUSD plans to engage WestEd to conduct an evaluation of this project to document the PBIS implementation, assess its fidelity to the model, and its impact and effectiveness. The evaluation will assess both individual and contextual changes as a result of the implementation of the culturally responsive PBIS/ behavioral RtI frameworks at our schools. WestEd, a preeminent research, development, and service organization with 600 employees and 17 offices nationwide, is a leader in moving research into practice. Its Health and Human Development staff currently evaluate the Safe and Supportive Schools grants in Louisiana and South Carolina; provide technical assistance for the California S3 grant; and have evaluated 8 Grants to Reduce Alcohol Abuse and 11 SS/HS projects.

Evaluation design. The evaluation will consist of a process evaluation and an outcome evaluation, each playing a critical role in informing both program staff and ED about the status of implementation and the project's effectiveness. The process evaluation will: 1) document and measure the fidelity with which the behavioral support system is implemented, 2) identify challenges encountered during implementation, 3) document changes made in the program design to increase efficiency and effectiveness, and 4) ensure project activities are accessible and utilized by intended targets. It will yield a thorough description of the project, including information about which features work and which do not, which can then be used to facilitate planning, decision-making, and program corrections. The outcome evaluation will assess the degree to which the project accomplishes its overall goals (to improve school climate and thereby improve behavioral and academic outcomes for students) and the outcome targets listed in “Project Services.” It will seek to answer these research questions, based on the program goals: 1) How has the tiered behavioral framework improved school climate, behavioral and academic indicators? 2) Do the interventions and services reduce the number of disciplinary referrals (especially for those receiving Tier 2 and 3 interventions)? 3) Can schools succeed in implementing a multi-tiered behavioral approach with fidelity? To answer these questions, both evaluation components will utilize multiple sources of quantitative and qualitative data, as detailed below.

Process evaluation data collection. School Teams will use the PBIS Implementation Team Checklist (Tier 1 supports) or Benchmarks for Advanced Tiers (BAT) (Tiers 2 and 3), three times per year, to assess whether they are implementing a multi-tiered behavioral framework with fidelity (GPRA 4 and Objective 3.1). School staff will complete the PBIS-developed online Self-Assessment Survey (SAS) annually. The survey examines the status and need for improvement of four behavior support systems. OUSD Behavioral Health Office Reports will document project progress, meetings, and/or presentations within or outside of OUSD to support school climate efforts. These reports will be used to monitor progress and provide accountability information about success and effective strategies for replication in other settings (Objectives 3.2-3.3). The evaluator will also conduct structured key stakeholder interviews (teachers, administrators, School Teams) and observations of selected classrooms at the end of each semester.

Outcome evaluation data collection. ODRs, suspensions, and expulsions data will be entered into AERIES using OUSD’s universal ODR Form at each school. Student attendance is collected daily and provided to CDE annually. These data will provide data about progress on these three GPRA measures at each school; be used to assess project success on project objectives 1.1-1.4; and provide insight into access to services and behavioral outcomes for Tier 2 and 3 interventions. The California Healthy Kids Survey (CHKS), administered annually in spring to students in grades 5, 7, 9, and 11, assesses students' school-related attitudes, behaviors, and experiences about risk and protective factors, learning engagement, and connectedness to school (Objective 1.5). State Test (ELA and Math) results, available to districts by early fall, will show progress in ELA and Math proficiency and closing the achievement gap between African American students and others (Objective 2.1). District data reports will help evaluate yearly performance on the number of students who enroll in Linked Learning programs and OUSD's graduation and dropout rates (2.2-2.3). PBIS Coaches and team leads will administer the PBIS and CHKS instruments. WestEd will conduct interviews and observations.

Data analyses. The evaluators will use mixed model methods for the evaluation. It will analyze quantitative data using the STATA Data Analysis and Statistical software, and provide summary reports to OUSD within 2 months of receiving the data. ODR data will be collected and analyzed at the site level and shared with the evaluator monthly. Suspension and expulsion data will be collected from the district at year-end. Descriptive analyses will yield total number of suspensions/expulsions; and number of events per student by grade, gender, and ethnicity for ODRs, suspensions/expulsions, attendance, and CHKS data. State test data will provide proficiency levels for ELA and Math by grade, gender and ethnicity. The PBIS fidelity instruments for Tiers 1-3 will be completed three times during the school year and scored using the rubrics provided. Finally, the PBIS SAS scoring rubric to measure school staff perceptions, attitudes, and behaviors will be used at baseline and annually. The evaluators will provide written summaries of qualitative data from interviews and site visits within one month of data collection.

(ii) Use of evaluation to provide performance feedback, assessment of progress, and inform program refinements. The evaluators will document findings in periodic summaries, year-end reports and executive summaries. Reports and summaries will present implementation progress, performance on our objectives, challenges encountered, lessons learned, and recommendations for program improvement. The evaluators will meet monthly with the Project Manager, Behavioral Health Coordinator, PBIS Coaches, and site Team Leads to discuss progress toward benchmarks and examine findings; serve as a forum for practitioners to share best practices based on rigorous data examination; and give stakeholders the opportunity to ask questions, understand the findings, and discuss the practical implications of the data for their practice. For instance, findings from the implementation fidelity tools will inform the development of action plans at each site. Discussions will also guide future data analysis. OUSD administrators and project staff will use the findings to inform program implementation and improvements.

JO ANN H. IZU

SUMMARY OF RELATED EXPERIENCE

Senior Research Associate Jo Ann H. Izu specializes in K-12 education and youth-related reforms, with an emphasis on low income and/or culturally and linguistically diverse students in California, Hawaii, and Australia. Evaluations of health, safety, and prevention and intervention efforts for high risk children and youth are a related, more recent strand of work ranging from evaluations of Grants to Reduce Alcohol Abuse Initiatives in court and community, and traditional secondary schools to a system of care mental health initiative in Alameda County for children 0-5 years of age and their families. Dr. Izu served as evaluator for two federally funded projects that address adolescent mental health and risk behaviors and the Family Oasis Program—a culturally sensitive family counseling and case management approach for Asian and Pacific Islander youth and their families. Youth development and voice is another area of interest. She completed a guide to help adults use a youth and data-driven process to increase youth voice, promote resilience, and strengthen adult-youth connections, and contributed to an article on applying student voice in school climate improvement.

EDUCATION

- 1988 Ph.D., Sociology of Education, Stanford University
- 1984 Ed.S. (Fulfilled requirements for educational specialist degree), Evaluation, Stanford University
- 1980 M.A., Sociology, Stanford University
- 1976 B.Ed., Secondary Education, University of Hawaii, Honolulu, Hawaii

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

- 2000– Present Senior Research Associate & Project Director, Health & Human Development Program, WestEd, Oakland, CA

Working in collaboration with local school districts, community-based organizations and county behavioral health services, Dr. Izu evaluated two early intervention and prevention efforts to reduce alcohol abuse using Project SUCCESS, environmental strategies, and positive youth development activities to address middle, high, and continuation school student needs. Previously, she worked with Mendocino County Office of Education and its partners to evaluate their Safe Schools/Healthy Students initiative—a collaborative effort taking a youth development approach to violence prevention, health, and school improvement for youth in their alternative programs, and court and community schools. She recently completed an evaluation of the Family Oasis Program—a culturally sensitive, family counseling and case management approach that adapts the Brief Strategic Family Therapy (BSFT) and Multi-

Dimensional Family Therapy (MDFT) models for Asian and Pacific Islander youth and their families to address risk behaviors, mental health needs, and wellness.

In the area of violence prevention, she directed an outcome evaluation of the Tribes Learning Communities Program, a school-wide reform designed to nurture and support learning communities among teachers as well as students (i.e., tribes); and served as the data and evaluation coordinator for Safe Passages, a city-wide initiative aimed at ensuring that all children and youth in Oakland are safe, healthy and thriving.

Within education, Dr. Izu has evaluated a wide range of initiatives and programs from technical assistance and formative feedback to S3 funded schools to the Hawaii Change Leadership Project (HCLP), a foundation funded initiative that works with principal and teacher leaders to develop communities of practice in a high school and its feeder schools where she conducted a primarily formative and preliminary summative evaluation of the early outcomes of HCLP using mainly existing data sources.

2003 Evaluation Consultant, Oakland Public Libraries and Oakland Museum of California, Oakland, CA and Hawaii Community Foundation, Honolulu, Hawaii.

Evaluated the Partners in Achieving School Success (PASS!) program (operating in ten library branches) to assist the Oakland Public Libraries in their strategic planning. Conducted focus groups of family program participants to assist the museum in improving their programs and services to families. Also evaluated the Principals Leadership Academy (PLA), an initiative funded by a consortium of foundations to enhance school leadership through school-business partnerships and learning networks in Hawaii.

1999 Senior Research Associate/Program Director, School-Community Support Program and Policy Support Program, WestEd/Far West Laboratory for Educational Research and Development, Oakland and San Francisco, CA

As director of research for the Policy Support Program, concentrated on charter schools and class size reduction initiatives. Using a mixed method design, directed an evaluation the Los Angeles Unified's first 13 charter schools, and Hawaii's first nine School-Community Based Management Schools. As interim director of the School-Community Support Program, Dr. Izu examined California's Every Student Succeeds initiative. All studies produced recommendations to the state/school boards, cross site reports, and case studies/school profiles. Also worked on a case study of a charter high school with lessons learned regarding key components posted on the U.S. Charter Schools website.

Dr. Izu worked on two projects focused on youth development programs in housing development projects. Evaluated the City Kids Project, the Camp Fire Boys and Girls Bay Area Council's effort to work with tenants associations to better serve urban youth in four housing development projects in San Francisco and Oakland. Also coordinated the evaluation of a drug elimination program project that provided comprehensive services and youth development activities in two San Francisco housing developments.

1989– Consultant, Schools and Curriculum Policy and International Divisions,

- 1991 Commonwealth Department of Employment, Education and Training (DEET), Canberra, ACT, Australia
- Synthesized educational accountability information for the annual national report on non-government schools, and analyzed enrollment, staffing, and expenditure data for international comparisons in the OECD performance indicators project.
- 1984–
1986 Senior Researcher and Policy Analyst
Berman-Weiler Associates, Berkeley, CA
- Directed or coordinated policy projects commissioned by Business Roundtables or state departments of educations, including: a policy study of Hawaii's K-12 public school system to develop recommendations and a plan for restructuring the system; the 33-site field component of a study of California's community colleges; and a statewide evaluation of the California School Improvement Program.

The United States Department of Education (ED) has approved a delegation agreement with the California Department of Education (CDE) that authorizes the CDE, as the cognizant agency, to establish indirect cost rates for California's local educational agencies (LEAs). Following is pertinent information concerning the agreement:

- Delegation Agreement Number: 2010-163
- Effective Period: July 1, 2010, to June 30, 2015
- Type of Indirect Cost Rate: Fixed Rate (with a carry-forward provision)
- Indirect Cost Rate Category: Restricted (computed per 34 Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) 76.564)
- Term Covered by the Rate: Indirect cost rates cover a one-year period and are calculated and approved annually.
- Use of Rate: Indirect cost rates are for use in the award and management of federal (and state) contracts, grants, and other assistance arrangements governed by Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-87 and Education Department General Administrative Regulations (EDGAR) 34 CFR parts 75.561 and 76.561(b) and (c).

CALIFORNIA

JACK O'CONNELL
STATE SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION

May 24, 2011

Dear County Chief Business Officials:

2011-12 APPROVED INDIRECT COST RATES

As the cognizant agency authorized by the United States Department of Education to approve California kindergarten through grade twelve (K-12) local educational agency (LEA) indirect cost rates, the California Department of Education (CDE) has reviewed the 2009-10 standardized account code structure (SACS) expenditure data and has finalized the approved indirect cost rates. The rates are for use, as allowable, with 2011-12 federal and state programs.

Approved Indirect Cost Rates

Please share the enclosed listing with the school districts and joint powers agencies (JPAs) in your county. The indirect cost rates are also posted on the CDE Indirect Cost Rate (ICR) Web page at <http://www.cde.ca.gov/fg/ac/ic/index.asp>.

Indirect Cost Rates for JPAs

As a reminder, because JPAs do not generally meet the guidelines for receiving approved indirect cost rates, they are not given an approved rate unless it is requested during the SACS data submission process. For further information on indirect cost rates applicable to JPAs, including the guidelines that must be met to receive an indirect cost rate, see Procedure 805 of the California School Accounting Manual which is available on our Web page at <http://www.cde.ca.gov/fg/ac/sa/>.

Charter School Indirect Cost Rates

The approved 2011-12 indirect cost rates for charter schools are also posted on the ICR Web page listed above. Please share them with the applicable school districts and charter schools.

Statewide Indirect Cost Rates

The 2011-12 statewide average indirect cost rates for the Food Service and Adult Education programs are as follows:

- 4.80% Food Service
- 4.76% Adult Education

For these programs, California Education Code (EC) sections 38101(c) and 52616.4(a)(3), respectively, limit school district indirect costs to amounts derived using the lesser of a school district's indirect rate or the program's statewide average indirect cost rate. Each district should compare these statewide rates with their individual indirect cost rate to determine the lesser rate for use with these programs. Please note that the statewide average rate for Adult Education is provided only for the benefit of any non-state adult education program not affected by flexibility provisions of EC Section 42605, currently in effect for fiscal years 2008–09 through 2014–15.

A listing showing the statewide rates for the last five years is also available on the ICR Web page listed above.

To aid staff in identifying the allowable indirect cost rates for various programs, the SACS Query system available on our Web page at <http://www.cde.ca.gov/fg/ac/ac/index.asp> includes this information for most programs.

If you have any questions regarding the indirect cost rates, please contact our office by phone at 916-322-1770 or by e-mail at sacsinfo@cde.ca.gov.

Dear Mr. Sarikey:

I am writing to express the Northwest PBIS's Network's (NWPBIS) commitment to collaborate with the Oakland Unified School District to support its plan to implement a tiered behavioral support program at all of its schools, as proposed in the district's application for federal School Climate Transformation Grant funding.

NW PBIS is a national leader in the provision of training and technical assistance for PBIS implementation. Based on extensive research, PBIS (Positive Behavioral Intervention and Support), has been shown to significantly reduce behavioral referrals for both discipline and emotional disturbance, among other positive outcomes for students and for their schools.

NW PBIS has supported OUSD's ongoing work in piloting PBIS systems and practices at a number of district schools over the past 2 years, after being selected to provide technical assistance based upon our efficacy with PBIS training in schools up and down the West Coast. Our role consists of providing professional development and coaching to ensure that the systems of behavioral support OUSD is putting in place are high quality, integrated with instruction, and culturally responsive.

We have agreed to continue to provide a package of training, professional development, and coaching to support OUSD's efforts to scale PBIS district-wide. To support OUSD's SCTG-funded project, this will include four day training sessions to personnel from cohorts of 10 school sites (one cohort in year 1, two cohorts in year 2, and 3 cohorts in year 3), plus two days of professional development in the summer, plus two days of coaches training each year. The PBIS Coaches will then be deployed to provide ongoing site-based coaching to School Climate Teams and other teachers and staff members at up to 10 participating schools each, with ongoing support from NWPBIS.

For our role in OUSD's School Climate Transformation Grant-funded project, NWPBIS agrees to be compensated a total of $104,000 over the 5-year grant period.

We are excited about OUSD's proposed School Climate Transformation project and look forward to supporting the district's extremely important efforts on behalf of young people and families in Oakland.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Sarikey:

I am writing to express the support of Alameda County Behavioral Health Care Services for Oakland Unified School District's application for federal School Climate Transformation Grant funding. We look forward to collaborating with OUSD on their plan to implement a tiered behavioral support program at all of their schools.

OUSD's proposed project is closely aligned with the work of Behavioral Health Care Services and Alameda County Health Care Services Agency's Center for Healthy Schools and Communities (CHSC). This program works to improve health and education outcomes for Alameda County youth through partnerships with schools, school districts, service providers, health advocates, policymakers, community partners, youth, and families.

BHCS collaborates with OUSD and other partners in our School-Based Behavioral Health Initiative, which focuses on promoting the healthy social-emotional development of all students and addressing behavioral health-related barriers to learning. We are working with our partners to expand the continuum of school-based behavioral health supports for students, from prevention to intensive intervention.

Our ongoing work within OUSD will support the tiered behavioral support program OUSD is proposing to implement district-wide. For instance, our work to build educators' capacity to support students' social-emotional development will support the universal "Tier 1" preventative strategies OUSD is proposing to implement. The behavioral health care services we fund – including but not limited to classroom supports, group and individual counseling, case management, collaboration with school Coordination of Services Teams, and workshops for families – will be incorporated into the proposed Tier 2 and Tier 3 interventions.

Alameda County Behavioral Health Care Services anticipates collaborating in the implementation of robust, tiered behavioral support systems district-wide in OUSD over the five years of the School Climate Transformation Grant. We are excited about OUSD's proposed School Climate Transformation project and look forward to supporting the district's extremely important efforts on behalf of young people and families in Oakland.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Sarikey:

I am writing to express the Alameda County Health Care Services Agency's commitment to collaborate with the Oakland Unified School District's to support its plan to implement a tiered behavioral support program at all of its schools, as proposed in the district's application for federal School Climate Transformation Grant funding.

OUSD's proposed project is closely aligned with the work of our agency's Center for Healthy School and Communities (CHSC), which works to improve health and education outcomes for Alameda County youth through partnerships with schools, school districts, service providers, health advocates, policymakers, community partners, youth, and families. CHSC has:

- Created critically needed access to health services for youth in low opportunity communities, supporting over 50,000 youth health care visits each year at 26 school health centers across the county, including 12 school health centers in OUSD.
- Strengthened schools' ability to offer high quality, culturally responsive behavioral health care supports by building and strengthening services at 160 schools in 16 county school districts, including over 60 schools in OUSD.
- Cultivated youth and family leadership by investing over $11 million in youth development and family support programs across the county, including the REACH Ashland Youth Center.
- Convened cross-sector partnerships that take a collective impact approach to supporting children, youth, and families.
- Partnered with schools and districts to invest a total of $100 million in a continuum of youth friendly, accessible, school-based health and wellness services across the county.

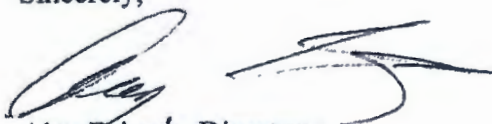

CHSC's collaborates closely with OUSD and other partners in our School-Based Behavioral Health Initiative, which focuses on promoting the healthy social-emotional development of all students and addressing behavioral health-related barriers to learning. To that end, the initiative is working to expand the continuum of school-based behavioral health supports for students, from prevention to intensive intervention. Our staff are helping build the capacity of school and district staff to support students' social-emotional development. We are providing funding for community behavioral health providers to offer a continuum of services at school sites. We are also assisting schools to increase their collaboration with behavioral health providers to build integrated programming within the schools. And we are working with OUSD and other districts to create an integrated data and evaluation system to track behavioral health outcomes linked to academic outcomes.

All of these efforts dovetail with and will support the tiered behavioral support program OUSD is proposing to implement district-wide. For instance, our work to build educators' capacity to support students' social-emotional development will support the universal "Tier 1" preventive strategies OUSD is proposing to implement. And the behavioral health care services we fund – including but not limited to classroom supports, group and individual counseling, case management, collaboration with school Coordination of Services Teams, and workshops for families – will be incorporated into the proposed Tier 2 and Tier 3 interventions.

Overall, Alameda County HCSA anticipates providing substantial resources to support the implementation of robust, tiered behavioral support systems district-wide in OUSD over the five years of the School Climate Transformation Grant. We estimate that our contribution to these systems – in Medi-Cal EPSDT funding and other funding streams for behavioral health services and other supports to schools – will amount to approximately fourteen million dollars per year.

We are excited about OUSD's proposed School Climate Transformation project and look forward to supporting the district's extremely important efforts on behalf of young people and families in Oakland.

Sincerely,

Alex Briscoe, Director
Health Care Services Agency

This report is a count of distinct individual students that have received at least one out-of-school suspension in the school indicated sometime during the above time period, regardless of present enrollment status.

Out-of-school suspensions are based on AERIES discipline records inputted at the school sites which show an infraction code between 1 and 25 as the Primary Offence code. All CDE discipline codes between 1 and 25 are reserved for out-of-school suspension records. Enrollment totals are based on current student counts, not CBEDS Day.

For each Ethnic/Gender student group and Students With Disabilities –
 # = the number of students within indicated student group who have received at least one suspension this year
 % = percent of students within indicated student group that received at least one suspension this year

Percents that are shaded dark and bolded indicate that this student group:
 - Has received suspensions at a noticeably higher rate than the school as a whole (indicated by a suspension rate more than 5 % points higher than school-wide)
 - Has at least 5 students receiving suspensions

This is one way of highlighting noticeable disparities in how student groups fare in regards to out-of-school suspensions.

*Please Note: Enrollment totals in this report should NOT be used as official enrollment numbers for any school or the district

Functional Analysis Screening Tool

Client: _____ Date: _____

Informant: _____ Interviewer: _____

To the Interviewer: The FAST identifies environmental and physical factors that may influence problem behaviors. It should be used only for screening purposes as part of a comprehensive functional analysis of the behavior. Administer the FAST to several individuals who interact with the client frequently. Then use the results as a guide for conducting a series of direct observations in different situations to verify behavioral functions and to identify other factors that may influence the problem behavior.

To the Informant: Complete the sections below. Then read each question carefully and answer it by circling "Yes" or "No". If you are uncertain about an answer, circle "N/A".

Functional Behavior Analysis Protocol

Problem	Give a specific example of the problem.	What would we actually see the student doing in class?	If there is more than one problem, with which problem should we begin?
Complexity	What other factors are involved?	In what other settings does this behavior occur?	Has there recently been a change in the frequency or duration of the behavior?
Analysis	What happens just before the problem occurs?	What happens just after the behavior occurs?	How do other students react to the behavior?

Replacement Behavior	What are we asking the student to do when the problem behavior occurs?	Is the student already demonstrating some replacement behaviors? What? When?	What level of progress will you find to be acceptable?
Measurement	When during the day would we get the best picture of the problem?	How long should we measure the problem? For an entire day, part of a day, or part of a period?	How will we measure the behavior? By number of incidents, duration, intensity, or all three factors?
Current Status	What have we done already in response to the behavior?	Have some things worked briefly?	How have we dealt with similar problems in the past?

Components of Behavior Support Plan (BSP)

A behavior support plan includes:

1. Description of the behavior impeding learning, including frequency, duration and intensity. What does the behavior look like to an outside observer?
2. Triggers/predictors of the problem behavior. Under what conditions does the student display the problem behavior?
3. Environmental factors (instruction, curriculum, physical setting, and social interactions) that contribute to the student using the problem behavior.
4. Hypothesized function/purpose of the problem behavior. What need is being met by engaging in the problem behavior?
5. Changes in environmental conditions (physical setting, curriculum, teaching strategies, materials, and accommodations/modifications) that are needed to remove the student's need to use the problem behavior.
6. Statement of desired goal/replacement behavior that meets the same need as the problem behavior, but in an acceptable way.
7. Instructional strategies, curriculum, and materials that are needed to teach the replacement behavior.
8. Reinforcement strategies to increase desired/replacement behavior.
9. Strategies and consequences to employ if problem behavior reoccurs.
10. Name of identified point person and plan for monitoring behavior.

NOTICE TO ALL APPLICANTS

The purpose of this enclosure is to inform you about a new provision in the Department of Education's General Education Provisions Act (GEPA) that applies to applicants for new grant awards under Department programs. This provision is Section 427 of GEPA, enacted as part of the Improving America's Schools Act of 1994 (Public Law (P.L.) 103-382).

To Whom Does This Provision Apply?

Section 427 of GEPA affects applicants for new grant awards under this program. ALL APPLICANTS FOR NEW AWARDS MUST INCLUDE INFORMATION IN THEIR APPLICATIONS TO ADDRESS THIS NEW PROVISION IN ORDER TO RECEIVE FUNDING UNDER THIS PROGRAM.

(If this program is a State-formula grant program, a State needs to provide this description only for projects or activities that it carries out with funds reserved for State-level uses. In addition, local school districts or other eligible applicants that apply to the State for funding need to provide this description in their applications to the State for funding. The State would be responsible for ensuring that the school district or other local entity has submitted a sufficient section 427 statement as described below.)

What Does This Provision Require?

Section 427 requires each applicant for funds (other than an individual person) to include in its application a description of the steps the applicant proposes to take to ensure equitable access to, and participation in, its Federally-assisted program for students, teachers, and other program beneficiaries with special needs. This provision allows applicants discretion in developing the required description. The statute highlights six types of barriers that can impede equitable access or participation: gender, race, national origin, color, disability, or age. Based on local circumstances, you should determine whether these or other barriers may prevent your students, teachers, etc. from such access or participation in, the Federally-funded project or activity. The description in your application of steps to be taken to overcome these barriers need not be lengthy; you may provide a clear and succinct description of how you plan to address those barriers that are applicable to your circumstances. In addition, the information may be provided in a single narrative, or, if appropriate, may be discussed in connection with related topics in the application.

Section 427 is not intended to duplicate the requirements of civil rights statutes, but rather to ensure that, in designing their projects, applicants for Federal funds address equity concerns that may affect the ability of certain potential beneficiaries to fully participate in the project and to achieve to high standards. Consistent with program requirements and its approved application, an applicant may use the Federal funds awarded to it to eliminate barriers it identifies.

What are Examples of How an Applicant Might Satisfy the Requirement of This Provision?

The following examples may help illustrate how an applicant may comply with Section 427.

- (1) An applicant that proposes to carry out an adult literacy project serving, among others, adults with limited English proficiency, might describe in its application how it intends to distribute a brochure about the proposed project to such potential participants in their native language.
- (2) An applicant that proposes to develop instructional materials for classroom use might describe how it will make the materials available on audio tape or in braille for students who are blind.
- (3) An applicant that proposes to carry out a model science program for secondary students and is concerned that girls may be less likely than boys to enroll in the course, might indicate how it intends to conduct "outreach" efforts to girls, to encourage their enrollment.

We recognize that many applicants may already be implementing effective steps to ensure equity of access and participation in their grant programs, and we appreciate your cooperation in responding to the requirements of this provision.

Estimated Burden Statement for GEPA Requirements

According to the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995, no persons are required to respond to a collection of information unless such collection displays a valid OMB control number. Public reporting burden for this collection of information is estimated to average 1.5 hours per response, including time for reviewing instructions, searching existing data sources, gathering and maintaining the data needed, and completing and reviewing the collection of information. The obligation to respond to this collection is required to obtain or retain benefit (Public Law 103-382). Send comments regarding the burden estimate or any other aspect of this collection of information, including suggestions for reducing this burden, to the U.S. Department of Education, 400 Maryland Ave., SW, Washington, DC 20210-4537 or email ICDocketMgr@ed.gov and reference the OMB Control Number 1894-0005.

Statement Regarding Compliance with General Education Provisions Act (GEPA), Section 427

Oakland Unified School District (OUSD) is a high-need urban district, serving a racially, linguistically, religiously, culturally, and socio-economically diverse community of children and families, many of whom are from distressed inner city neighborhoods. Across our district, 71% of students are economically disadvantaged; 88% are minorities, the largest groups Latinos (38%) and African Americans (30%); 30% are English Learners, with 40 languages represented; and 10% receive Special Education services.

OUSD provides equitable access to all students, faculty and other staff, and family members regardless of age, race, sex, religion, national origin, disability, economic background, or sexual orientation. OUSD, the Alameda County Health Care Services Agency, and the many community service providers with whom we will collaborate on the project, have extensive experience and multiple policies and procedures for making programming responsive to our community's diversity. All staff members in OUSD receive training in relating to, and interacting effectively with, the diversity of students and families they encounter at our schools. OUSD and our partners strive to hire staff that reflects the ethnic/cultural/linguistic backgrounds of the students and families with whom we work.

Our proposed School Climate Transformation Grant project is designed scale up the culturally responsive PBIS multi-tiered behavioral support system which we have piloted at some of our highest-need schools, and that are already showing very positive results, to create the conditions and supports in all of OUSD's 86 non-charter schools to enable all students to graduate from high school ready for college, careers, and the community. All but 11 of our schools meet one or more of the criteria for "high-need school" detailed in the application guidelines.

In the proposed project, implementation of a three-tiered behavioral support system at each of our schools will be integrated with and leverage ongoing initiatives to strengthen core acaademic programs, school climate, and social-emotional learning for students, as well as mental health, health care, and after-school programs at the target schools. They will be incorporated into OUSD's ongoing work to develop Full-Service Community Schools district-wide, and will be supported by professional development and coaching for project and school site staff.

OUSD will address barriers that can impede equitable access or participation in the proposed initiative through the following steps:

- OUSD maintains equitable hiring policies, which prohibit discrimination in hiring based on race, gender, national origin, age, or disability.
- OUSD will engage in broad-based outreach to encourage applications for employment for persons who speak the language of the populations to be served and are members of groups that are numerous represented at our schools and have been traditionally underrepresented based on race, color, national origin, gender, age, or disability.
- The district will partner with agencies that actively promote and invest in employment of members of these underrepresented communities.
- The district will ensure that all training, professional development, and coaching activities provided as part of the project will promote culturally and linguistically appropriate social-emotional learning and behavioral health services which are tailored to meet the needs of all students and families in our school communities.
- To ensure that students and their families at the participating schools have equal access to support services provided under this grant, the district and our partners will implement a model of service delivery that is universally accessible to all students and families, including those who are undocumented or uninsured.

Specific strategies incorporated into our project design to ensure equitable access to services include the following:

- Communications to inform students, families, school staff, and other stakeholders about the purpose, planning, and implementation of the PBIS framework at our schools will utilize outreach materials in English, Spanish, and other common native languages of our immigrant families.
- Each school will form a School Culture & Climate Team to lead implementation. The teams will include a diversity of stakeholders in order to incorporate different perspectives into the various components of the tiered behavioral support systems. Team members will include an administrator, one or more lead teachers, a classified staffer (e.g., intervention specialist, school nurse, School Security Officer), a family outreach person and/or parent leader, staff from CBO partners, such as the school's mental health provider and after-school program lead, and a student representative at the secondary school level. Including parent representatives and CBO partners will be part of an inclusive process to define the school's core values, behavioral expectations, positive reinforcements, and progressive discipline. This will help ensure these elements of the tiered behavioral support system reflect the diverse cultural beliefs, norms, and values of the school's students, families, and staff.
- Coaching to support implementation will explicitly addresses cultural awareness and competence – to help school staff unpack and understand race- or socioeconomic class-related differences in behavioral norms and standards; how factors such as stereotyping, unconscious bias, and misperceptions of student actions may affect their own interaction with students and responses to behavioral issues; how racial minority students' ways of knowing, behaving, and being are often devalued or pathologized; and to effectively teach and support students from different cultures.
- We will design Tier 2 and Tier 3 interventions through an equity lens. Personnel who lead small group interventions, restorative justice circles, Manhood Development classes, and mental health services will be selected for their understanding of and skills in working with students and families from disadvantaged groups, and receive professional development in providing culturally relevant services.

- We will engage families from the start of Tier 2 and 3 interventions to elicit their perspective on their child's behavior and needs; ensure they know the purpose of the intervention, how it works, and their role in it; ask them whom they think should be involved in an intervention; and maintain communication to make this collaboration as effective as possible.

Moreover, OUSD is committed to including students with learning and other disabilities in all of our programs and activities and to providing appropriate staff development so that students with such disabilities receive services to prevent them from dropping out. Staff from the Behavioral Health Office and other units in our Family, Schools, & Community Partnerships Department will work with the OUSD Programs for Exceptional Children Office to ensure that children with disabilities receive prevention and intervention services as needed, to ensure that children with special needs do not fall through the cracks. Some of the specific measures that will ensure equitable access to the project's array of services and supports include (but are by no means limited to) the following:

- Siting our programs at public schools, all of which are ADA accessible.
- Accommodating individuals with physical disabilities in all programming elements. No student will be denied participation in any activities based on physical disability.
- Providing training for staff on developmentally appropriate practices and on strategies for modifying traditional activities to be inclusive of ALL children and youth in educational activities.

- Identifying necessary accommodations for disabled students (in the IEP or 504 plan) and other program participants and providing these accommodations.
- Providing school materials in Braille, large print, audio or videotape format if required.
- Providing sign language translators for the deaf as needed.
- Providing program accessibility to students of all ages and staff with disabilities through orientation and mobility training, interpretation services, closed captioning, assistive technology devices, personal assistants, program accessibility, early identification and intervention, elimination of architectural barriers, etc.
- Keeping teachers and administrators well-informed of student needs and abilities so that they are aware of and refrain from assigning unfair activities related to issues of disability.
