Expeditionary Learning- Description of Organizational Qualifications

The Expeditionary Learning (EL) model is based on research and honed by 18 years of working closely with schools and districts. We presently work in 165 schools in 30 different states. Our work experience has consistently demonstrated that our model:

- Develops leadership capacity across the school to build a shared vision for school transformation and a professional culture rooted in quality, continuous improvement, and trust
- Builds teacher effectiveness through on-site coaching as well as regional and national professional development
- Organizes learning around an experiential project-based approach in which students do original research and create high-quality products for audiences beyond the classroom
- Develops critical thinking and problem-solving skills as essential elements of the deep learning that prepares students for success in college and beyond
- Creates a school culture based on strong adult-student relationships and positive character, with rigorous expectations for behavior and achievement
- Empowers school leaders, teachers, and students in collecting and analyzing data from multiple sources to improve student achievement
- Balances an academically rigorous, and well-defined approach with teacher creativity and judgment

HIGH ACHIEVEMENT

Schools that implement our model have test scores that exceed district averages, often by substantial margins, particularly for high-need subgroups. In our exemplary high schools, 100% college acceptance is the standard. Not only do students achieve at higher levels than their peers on state tests, but they also gain skills critical to college readiness and success — problem solving, critical thinking, persistence toward excellence, and active citizenship.

TRANSFORMATIONAL PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

We combine on-site coaching in classrooms — differentiated by teacher capacity and need — with off-site residential institutes that put teachers in the role of student learners, researching real-world topics. Traditional professional development often places teachers in a passive role of being told how to teach. In contrast, our coaches model effective, active classrooms.

ACTIVE, INTERDISCIPLINARY LEARNING

Our instructional practices emphasize student inquiry, critical thinking, and craftsmanship. Students engage in original research and create high-quality academic products to share with outside audiences. Learning expeditions - deep, interdisciplinary investigations of rich academic topics - bring together teachers from different disciplines or enrich the work of individual teachers in discipline-specific classrooms.

DATA-DRIVEN PLANNING

Our tight, data-driven planning cycle keeps a sharp focus on student achievement, local context, and changing needs. A school's work with us begins with a holistic needs and assets inventory and proceeds with the development of work plans aimed at dramatic improvements in student achievement and implementation of our core practices.

HIGH-QUALITY STAFF

The heart of our work happens in the interaction between EL's coaches – called school designers — and staff. Our school designers are themselves experienced teachers and school leaders who draw upon the collective power of our national network to mentor and guide new members.

A PROFESSIONAL NETWORK

Through our annual National Conference, content-specific professional development institutes, Local Collaboration Clusters, and our online collaboration space, EL Commons, educators learn from one another through best-practice sharing.

Expeditionary Learning has designed and refined an approach that engages and energizes students, teachers, and district and school leaders.

BENEFITS TO STUDENTS

- Energizes student motivation and engagement through high-level tasks and active roles in the classroom
- Uses case studies and projects to connect students to real-world audiences and compel them to care and contribute
- Sets clear expectations and tight follow-through for respect and responsibility, teamwork and contribution, and commitment to high-quality work
- Builds a school culture where students feel safe, respected, and pushed to be their best selves
- Trusts students with deep cognitive challenges and important responsibilities and prepares them to be leaders
- Develops the critical thinking and problem-solving skills needed to succeed in college and beyond

BENEFITS TO TEACHERS

- Employs professional development that is active and immediately useful in instruction

- Respects teachers as professionals and develops their growth as leaders
- Catalyzes improvement in new and veteran teachers
- Addresses standards with structures that recognize and use teacher judgment and creativity
- Understands that the most important assessment practices occur daily in the classroom
- Provides concrete models of strong student work and teacher work to guide practice
- Builds a collaborative community of practice within the school, in the EL network, and beyond

DISTRICT AND SCHOOL LEADER BENEFITS

- Builds capacity across the full range of existing teaching staff
- Integrates structures for assessment and data-informed practice that teachers and students understand and embrace
- Utilizes carefully articulated data analysis to guide priorities for improvement
- Maps state standards to an engaging curriculum and active classroom instruction
- Provides working models of effective schools and leaders as well as a network of professional support
- Renews job satisfaction and job commitment for strong teachers
- Engages parents, community leaders, and experts in support of student learning
Connects schools to community issues through project-based learning and service

Our school designers spend an average of 30 days a year in a school working on-site with teachers and school leaders. This allows them to provide professional development within a whole school design and combine focused institutes with on-site coaching and support. Off-site institutes and site seminars engage teachers as learners to support better assessment of student learning, demonstrate engaging content instruction, and foster their own development as learners and thinkers.

SCHOOL-BASED PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT OFFERINGS

Each school designer develops a variety of school-based professional development opportunities for staff based on a school's identified needs. Some examples include:

- Full staff training for improved schoolwide implementation of our model
- Small team coaching sessions for curriculum planning
- Curriculum planning with individual teachers
- Demonstration lessons with students and follow-up debriefing sessions with teachers
- Targeted professional development around one of the key facets of our model, authentic student-engaged assessment
- Classroom observation and follow-up debriefing sessions with teachers
- Individual or small group meetings with school leaders or leadership teams
- Presentations to various constituent groups (e.g., parents, community groups, school boards)
- Ongoing assessment of the schoolwide implementation of our core practices
- Access to teaching resources, model student work, and EL Commons, our online forum for sharing knowledge and collaborative work space

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT INSTITUTES AND SEMINARS

Our professional development is led by the most experienced school designers and master teachers from across our network. Three-day and five-day residential institutes provide content-rich curricular and instructional strategies for teachers and leaders on topics such as reading, math, differentiation, assessment, and the use of data. Five-day residential Learning Expeditions for Educators allow teachers to experience learning as their students do. And two-day Site Seminars invite educators to observe some of our most successful schools in action.

EXPEDITIONARY LEARNING NATIONAL CONFERENCE

The Expeditionary Learning National Conference includes a mix of interactive master classes, structured discussion groups, and regional gatherings. Approximately 120 master classes, collaboratively designed and facilitated by EL school designers and teachers, are offered each year to the conference's 700+ participants. The optional pre-conference day is a chance to experience EL practices on a deeper level. Participants can take a science-based or humanities-based Slice – a day in the life of a Learning Expedition; visit a local EL school; or explore a common EL practice, such as differentiation or assessment.

The 2012 National Conference will take place May 3-5 in Denver, CO.

“Right now World of Inquiry is number one in science and number one in mathematics in the city of Rochester—despite the fact that it has 70 percent of its kids coming in at or below the poverty level.”

Rochester City School District Superintendent Jean-Claude Brizard

Our expanding evidence base

EL is committed to collecting third party research on the impact of our work. Two recent studies—one in Rochester, NY and one national—further substantiate our internal data with statistically significant findings showing evidence of EL impact on student achievement.

Study 1 Impact of the Expeditionary Learning model on student academic performance in Rochester, NY

Type: Quasi-experimental matched comparison group design

Location: Rochester, NY

Date: September 2010

Author: UMASS Donahue Institute

Summary: In a recent study of EL schools in Rochester, NY, researchers compared the academic achievement performance of EL elementary and middle school students in Rochester, NY to matched comparison students in non-EL Rochester schools over two academic years. Researchers found two important findings:

- Participating in an EL school resulted in substantial and statistically significant achievement advantages for elementary students in English/language arts and math, and for both years of middle school English/language arts.
- These statistically significant positive effects predict that, on average, enrollment in an EL school would have lifted 19% of the students who were below the proficient category to the proficient category on the state assessment had they attended an EL school.

Study 2 The relationship between Expeditionary Learning participation and academic growth

Type: Quasi-experimental study

Location: National

Date: August 2010

Author: Mountain Measurement, Inc.

Summary: In a national study of more than 11,000 students in eight states, researchers compared growth in reading, math, and language usage between students in EL schools to a non-EL comparison group. The researchers found that in mature EL schools – those that had implemented the EL program at a high level of fidelity for three years or more – students experienced significantly greater test score gains than non-EL students in four out of six comparisons in math, reading, and language usage.
