Oakland Unified School District - Private Schools Program
Program Improvement Plan — Title IIA

School name: Oakland Hebrew Day School Year: 2013-2014

Assessment:

In our new Strategic Plan (2013), developed with input from faculty, administrators, and families, we identified the following needs:

1. Offer a robust, challenging, cutting-edge curriculum respectful of individual learner needs and aligned with the new California Common Core Standards and the NETS standards.

Rationale: The new California Common Core Standards set a high bar for giving all students the key foundational skills in reading, writing and math as well as solid and repeated experience with higher order thinking to prepare them for academic success in high school and college. By increasing understanding and ownership of these standards by all K-8 teachers we will be better equipped to teach to these standards with intentionality and success. Similarly, the NETS standards create a clear path for providing students with essential skills related to technology. By working together in professional learning communities to develop common assessments based on the standards, to evaluate student work and to plan for differentiated instruction to meet the needs of diverse learners, teachers will become active participants in strengthening our overall program.

2. Continue to cultivate strong classroom and school-wide community which supports students to be themselves, to show caring and respect for others and which establishes and maintains an emotionally safe environment for every single student.

Rationale: Students' sense of connection to community and their feeling of emotional safety within that community are paramount, not only to students' mental health, but also to their academic success in school. When students feel respected and safe with their peers they are better poised to participate in whole class discussion, take intellectual risks and work collaboratively with peers in a productive way. A safe classroom and school community does not arise by itself, but rather teachers must have the skills and processes in place that establish and maintain such a community. Teachers must come to see classroom climate and community-building as one of the many skills they must regularly teach and assess.

3. Strengthen our ability to prepare 21st century learners by increasing our ability to integrate technology, provide collaborative opportunities and teach through project-based approaches.

Rationale: Educating 21st century learners requires that educators provide rich opportunities for students to engage with the skills and tools of today's world. Students and their teachers need to be comfortable and adept with the use of technology to communicate, research, present and create. Students need to be able to work productively with others, both face-to-face and through social media and on-line collaboration. And teachers need to be able to provide complex real-world problem and project-based learning opportunities in which students are pushed to grapple with thorny challenges. These changes represent a paradigm shift, especially for many seasoned teachers. It will take collaboration and mutual support between teachers and administration to embrace this shift.
