the four pillars of Linked Learning

- Expenditures should support the Theory of Action, should address the Root Cause Analysis, and should ensure the implementation of the Strategies in order to meet the Goals of your SPSA and the purpose of Measure N
- Expenditures are in addition to, and not in place of, services that would otherwise be provided to participating students with state and local funds if Measure N funds were not available
- Expenditures are not being used to cover the expenses of programmatic elements, staff salary, and costs that were previously being funded by the school
- The plan includes adequate and sustainable resources to support key goals and strategies that align to pathway development work and coherence

- Proposed Measure N budget appears to be supplemental and is supported with the investment of other funding sources

Final Recommendation

Approved - Developing and Implementing

School is actively implementing Linked Learning as is evidence by the establishment of the Career Technical Education and Work-Based Learning pillars of Linked Learning, at minimum

School is actively developing the remaining pillars, the integration of all four pillars, and key Linked Learning elements as is evidenced by the Measure N Education Improvement Plan (SPSA)

Strengths:

- It is evident the Sojourner Truth staff took a deep dive into fleshing out their pathway theme and have identified some thoughtful and intentional plans for developing authentic, real-world learning opportunities for students aligned to their technology theme. In addition, the identification of a series of tech certifications and some deep thinking about how you will begin to integrate those into your courses is strong. The establishment of a partnership with the Glover Center is a great step towards developing more in-depth WBL experiences and takes advantage of your unique independent studies structure. Excited to see how the integration of your pathway theme into your core content areas develops and transforms opportunities for students.
- Clear alignment between the allocation of your resources and your identified goals and strategies for pathway development
- Clearly evident the deep thinking and collaboration the SJT staff have done to create the plan for pathway development

Key Questions:

- What will success look like if you integrate the pathway theme/technical skills into your core content classes? What do you want students to know and be able to do as a result of the pathway theme integration?
- What types of comprehensive wrap-around supports are you putting into place to ensure students are on track to being successful in your school and pathway?
- You have some great ideas for the work-based learning component and are moving in the right direction. What will success look for you next year for WBL?
