ADDITIONAL INSURED – DESIGNATED PERSON OR ORGANIZATION

This endorsement modifies insurance provided under the following:

COMMERCIAL GENERAL LIABILITY COVERAGE PART

SCHEDULE

Name Of Additional Insured Person(s) Or Organization(s):

Any person or organization that you are required to add as an additional insured on this policy, under a written contract or agreement currently in effect, or becoming effective during the term of this policy. The additional insured status will not be afforded with respect to liability arising out of or related to your activities as a real estate manager for that person or organization.

Information required to complete this Schedule, if not shown above, will be shown in the Declarations.

- A. Section II Who Is An Insured is amended to include as an additional insured the person(s) or organization(s) shown in the Schedule, but only with respect to liability for "bodily injury", "property damage" or "personal and advertising injury" caused, in whole or in part, by your acts or omissions or the acts or omissions of those acting on your behalf:
  - In the performance of your ongoing operations; or
  - In connection with your premises owned by or rented to you.

However:

- The insurance afforded to such additional insured only applies to the extent permitted by law; and
- If coverage provided to the additional insured is required by a contract or agreement, the insurance afforded to such additional insured will not be broader than that which you are required by the contract or agreement to provide for such additional insured.

B. With respect to the insurance afforded to these additional insureds, the following is added to Section III – Limits Of Insurance:

If coverage provided to the additional insured is required by a contract or agreement, the most we will pay on behalf of the additional insured is the amount of insurance:

- 1. Required by the contract or agreement; or
- Available under the applicable Limits of Insurance shown in the Declarations; whichever is less.

This endorsement shall not increase the applicable Limits of Insurance shown in the Declarations.

Turning the Wheel is a national nonprofit that has touched the lives of over 100,000 people in more than 1000 very diverse schools and organizations around the country. Turning the Wheel uses the power of art to build healthy communities, foster leaders, and share the joy of self-expression with participants of all ages, economic situations, genders, ethnic backgrounds and challenges.

Mission

Turning the Wheel is an intergenerational dance/theater company committed to the collaborative creation of works of art that are rooted in and restorative for the communities in which we perform and teach. TTW is dedicated to making creative expression and art accessible to people of all ages, experience and cultural and socioeconomic backgrounds.

Using a working model that is based on inclusiveness, community engagement and collaboration, Turning the Wheel seeks to reconnect youth and elders to their lives and society; to encourage a collective ethic of caring for others and ourselves and to be a contributing force in fostering healthy, creative communities.

Turning the Wheel Oakland Scope of Work

Turning the Wheel Productions is an intergenerational dance/ theater organization that builds community through movement. During the weeklong residency students will explore kinesthetic team building through visual and performing arts. The program will weave music, art, dance, improv, set construction, and creative play to culminate in a multi media performance/final sharing that showcases their stories and their successes.

Our programs offer youth the means by which they can explore common issues they face in a safe and supportive environment. Body and interpersonal awareness, self esteem, stress, ability to act easefully and concisely from the uniqueness of who they are, building strong, supportive social relationships, fostering gratitude, developing outlets of expression (writing, moving, voicing) and transforming these desires into action. Our work (and theirs!) supports them in being leaders, fosters a love of movement and vibrant health through the body, mind and spirit, and builds their connection with their communities.

Turning the Wheel Programs include these expressive arts elements:

- IMPROVISATION: Introduction to theatre and dance improv forms.
- PEER INTERVIEWING: a combination of sentence stems and generating our own questions to gather our stories. Often based on a theme.
- MIXEDMEDIADOCUMENTATION: documenting self and other through at least one of the following: photography, video and/or audio recording.
- CHOREOGRAPHY: Creation of individual and group choreography based on participant's stories and/or the class theme (ie... trust, body image, self esteem, etc...)
- VOCALIZATION: through song, spoken word and improv games.
- COSTUME CONSTRUCTION: Mixed media, including at least one of the following: masks,t-shirts, sashes with text and decoration, crowns/headpieces
- SET CONSTRUCTION: Mixed media, including at least one of the following: printed photography, origami, collage.

Residency Outline School Arts Programming Photo Mask Dance Project

Day 1

Goals

- Invite student participants into a welcoming environment that is safe and encourages artistic and creative expression.
- Introduce working as an ensemble. Explore movement based theatre games to get students connected with themselves, other participants, and team facilitators in a fun and playful way.
- Begin 1st phase of set creation: elder and younger students are paired to take group photos of the other participants in the school environment to be included in a large-scale collage that is used as the backdrop of the set of the final showing.
- Begin to explore collaboration with peers during the process of creating the photographs. Pairs will explore ways to creatively express themselves through the spatial relationship of the individuals in the photo; the spatial relationship to the environment, and mood related to location as well as facial expression.

Activities

- Gather in a circle. Take hands and come together in a circle Introductions
   Preliminary Survey
- II. Switch places in the circle
- III. Copy circle- Led by the facilitators and then the kids
- IV. Name Pass
- V. Seeds
- VI. Taking photographs
- VII. Story Game and Find Someone Who
- VIII. Closing circle: Appreciate the youth for their participation, good attention, sharing, and creative expression.

Day 2

Goals

- Continue to build confidence and safety among participants while encouraging them to explore their own artistic and creative impulses.
- Continue to build community through creative collaboration, mutual support, and appreciation
- Teach movement theatre forms that will be utilized in the final showing at the end of the week.
  - Text creation: Facilitators interview students, gathering information about their life, neighborhood, school and favorite hobbies.

Activities

- I. Gather in a circle. Take hands and come together in a circle
- II. Switch places in the circle
- III. Copy Circle
- IV. Alternating Shapes
- V. Lead and Follow
- VII. Shaping Line
- VIII. Corridor Dances
- VIII. Writing Sentence stems and Peer Interviews
- IX. Closing circle: Appreciate the youth for their participation, good attention, sharing, and creative expression.

Day 3

Goals

- Explore additional and more sophisticated performance forms that will be used in the final showing, where participants become the choreographers as they create movements, demonstrate and teach them to their peers.
  - Build ensemble work and leadership skills by positive attention and affirmation of the movement score groups.
- Students see the results of their photography from the first day. This deepens their ownership of the project and builds confidence.
- · Record text to be included as an element of the soundtrack for the final showing.
- Continue to build and support the community through collaboration, mutual support, and appreciation.

Activities

- I. Gather in a circle. Take hands and come together in a circle
- II. Switch places in the circle.
- III. Copy circle
- IV. Movement Scores: Teach a guided large movement score and then have the youth divide into their seed groups from the day before to create their own movement score. Each youth teaches everyone a movement that they repeat for a count of eight. Once each person has a movement, then the group participates in a collaborative process to decide the staging of the dance.
- V. Break into small groups and record text from sentence stems and peer interview
- VI. Call and Response, from sentence stems.
- VII. Closing circle: Appreciate students for their participation, good attention, sharing, and creative expression.

Day 4

Goals

- Create the costume element: mask creation. Youth develop an appreciation of art through their artistic creation, as well as witnessing the diversity of expression within their peer group.
- · Allow students to explore their own unique artistic voice in a safe, open environment.
- * Continue to build community through collaboration, mutual support, and appreciation.
- Accountability, self-esteem, and leadership become focal points of the project.
- Work on building the set: Origami allows students to play within the safety of a structured art form. It stretches their analytical learning.
- Continue to build and support the community through collaboration, mutual support, and appreciation.

Activities

- I. Gather in a circle. Take hands and come together in a circle
- II. Switch places in the circle.
- III. Copy circle
- V. Mask creation: Each youth is provided with a white half mask. The facilitators assist them in decorating the masks any way they want with the supplies provided.
- VI. Show masks and do a mask/shape wave
- IV. Stars and Origami Set Project
- V. Story Game
- VI. Learn a Song: Love Grows
- VII. Closing circle: Appreciate students for their participation, good attention, sharing, and creative expression.

Day 5

Goals

- Smooth through the performance and deepen comfort level with final performance.
- Perform with costumes for family and friends! Completion of the performance solidifies the sense of ownership, self-esteem, leadership, and accountability for youth. It allows students to be seen, heard and appreciated for the gifts that they bring to themselves and their community.
- Play and Have fun!

Activities

- I. Gather in a circle. Take hands and come together in a circle
- II. Switch places in the circle
- III. Copy circle
- IV. Run through the dance sequence
- VI. Run through the dance sequence a second time in costume
- VII. Affirmation circle
- VIII. Performance for families and teachers

Gather in a Circle and Introductions: Class begins by coming together and discussing the overview for the class, including an introduction of the facilitators. We also mention the final performance and talk about how each class will build toward this cumulative project. We set up conditions for success around physical safety. We do a lot of improvisational movement so we talk about keeping each other safe and body awareness.

Switch Places in the Circle: To reenforce keeping each other safe and to enhance body awareness with improvisational forms we start with an easy game of switching places in the circle. Everyone becomes present in the room and aware of the other people in the class, a first step toward building community. Facilitators introduce different verbal cues for crossing the circle. Ex: Cross slowly, cross happily, cross and see someone, cross as fast as you can without touching anyone.

Copy Circle and Name Pass: We start with everyone is a large circle. To begin the facilitators will each take a turn doing a variety of fun gestures and everyone else is encouraged to copy. It can be silly and goofy, or slow and deliberate. It gives the students an opportunity to see all the ways they can move as dancers in the class. After each of the facilitators has had a turn to lead, we go around the circle giving each student a turn to be lead the group and be copied. For the first class we often encourage students to say their name with their gesture, to learn everyone's name. Each person gets a chance to be seen and feel the power of leading the group in a highly successful environment, which sets the stage for growing into more leadership over the course of the class.

Seeds: This game becomes a form in the final performance. We start with everyone standing in a circle. For this exercise, one person goes in the middle of the circle and makes a shape. As soon as that "seed" person is totally still, the rest of the group runs in and takes a shape in response to the seed shape and gets very still. Together, everyone makes one big, still sculpture. Then once the group is comfortable with the game, we play with different ways of responding to the seed person. You can play with different levels, using the floor or towering over the seed person. You can run in and be really close to the seed person, or, you could try being far away. Everyone is given a chance to be the "seed," which is another opportunity to take risks and experience being a leader. The other participants in the game participate as collaborators as they respond to and engage with the "seed."

Taking Photographs: Kids are placed into small groups with a facilitator. Each group is given a camera and sent out into the school grounds to take pictures of each other. Each kid gets to be the composer of 4 to 5 photos. Kids work together to create the ideas presented by the composer. This is the first project of many that exposes the kids to potentially new art forms. Seeing the final product builds self esteem and encourages arts appreciation.

Story Game: This is a quiet game to close the day. Sitting in a circle, as a small group, the students are encouraged to come up with the name of a story that has never been told before. Then together we build and tell the story to the title we made up. Often students will choose topics from their own life and experiences. Each person gets to add one sentence to the story as we go around the circle. Students have to listen to each other and work together to create a beginning, a middle, and end to the story, and learn to support each idea that is brought in.

Closing Circle: We appreciate the youth for their participation, good attention, sharing, and creative expression. Then we close by sending love out to anyone needing it, around the circle to each other, and then "touch the earth, dance forever" while drumming on the ground. This weekly ending builds the safe container and adds consistency to our weeks together.
