Approach to Staffing, Sub-Consultant management and delivering timely and Quality Service

ACC will be the Prime Consultant under this RFP and will not utilize any Sub-Consultants. ACC understands the importance and value of ensuring projects are completed on time and on budget. ACC established team comprised of a Sr. Project Manager (SPM), certified technicians and administrative staff to provide client communication, project oversight and technical monitoring and document submittal during and after completion of each phase of the project. ACC will communicate with OUSD to ensure consistent response times to meet all projected requirements.

SPMs attend regularly scheduled meetings to discuss forecasted staffing requirements on projects. Each week a schedule is distributed to all staff members. ACC will work with OUSD to predict delays both for the contract documents and for changes in the field. ACC is dedicated to using local staff on projects and will ensure staff continuity on projects.

Our project managers are experienced cost estimators who continually track the current production rates and cost trends of the abatement industry and update our cost estimating software – allowing us to have the most up to date information available to accurately estimate the costs of projects.

We apply strict project management processes to all of our projects, enforcing agreed upon critical paths, maintaining strong control of project conduct, applying good communication practices and sharing our understanding of the work with all stakeholders including contractors. We routinely act as a liaison between the contractor and client groups to work out logistics and to ensure that costly delays and issues are avoided in all our projects.

When delays or conflict occurs between agency and stakeholders, ACC will assess the situation and provide the opportunity to explore agency and stakeholder's perceptions about the situation. ACC will develop solutions and productive strategies and action plans to move processes forward. ACC is experienced in preparing for and attending public comment sessions as needed.

ACC has pioneered the use of automated inspection data gathering and report writing tools. ACC streamlines the deliverable process for all reports and documentation allowing us to provide timely and economical reports.

3. Approach and Understanding

Approach to Scope of Work: ACC has a long and successful history of working on small and large-scale surveys, abatement and demolition projects in the K-12 school setting. We will work diligently to ensure all DSA requirements as well as other local, district, state and federal regulations are addressed and followed closely.

TASK 1: ACC will conduct sampling to identify all hazardous materials within the defined project areas.

TASK 2: ACC will develop construction documents for abatement, removal and management of identified hazardous materials associated with the construction project.

TASK 3: ACC will provide monitoring services during the construction phase of the project to insure activities comply with the contract documents and applicable laws and regulations. Our extensive experience in hazardous materials investigations, abatement project design, project estimating and project management allows us to anticipate challenges and to act proactively.

ACC has performed environmental consulting services for OUSD for over 20 years and has an intimate relationship with facilities. During this time ACC has performed projects for all project sites identified in the RFP. It is our understanding that this project requires new sampling be performed for each of the subject project areas and this proposal reflects that requirement, however as a result of our long service to OUSD we have compiled sampling data for both asbestos and lead paint as well as additional Hazardous Materials that may be useful to enhance the accuracy and cost effectiveness of these projects. If awarded the project, ACC will review our database to determine if data is available that would be valid and applicable to develop appropriate and compliant bid documents. Prior to performing inspections of the area ACC will confer with the OUSD design team regarding this information and proceed as directed.

Technical Approach

The following narrative provides our methodology and approach to perform the scope of work related to this RFP.

Project Initiation and Execution: All Project types.

ACC will proceed to schedule the work in accordance with protocols described in the RFP and as directed by OUSD. An ACC Project Manager will assign the appropriate certified technical staff to perform the contracted work. All communications are managed directly by the ACC Project Manager.

The work will be performed in accordance with the requirements defined by OUSD and completed within the allotted time frame. All data collected in the field will be recorded on field forms and the report written and reviewed to meet agreed upon schedule requirements.

Field Survey Work: ACC will review existing survey reports and sample results available for each building. If the site inspection confirms that existing sampling is adequate and the data will be included on ACC material data forms as having already been sampled previous and this information will be included in the final report.

Upon the commencement of an asbestos and/or other hazardous materials survey, ACC will proceed in the following manner; 1) conduct a walk-through of the building take an inventory of all suspect building materials and components that will require testing for asbestos and/or lead and note each suspect material on the ACC's Material Information Form; 2) While taking inventory of all suspect asbestos and/or hazardous materials or components that will require sampling, ACC will also be filling out the Building Information Form, which provides all the details on the make up of the structure, age, length, width, type of construction, square footage, make up of both interior and exterior walls, floors, ceilings and mechanical systems. Typically this form is used on commercial and more complex structures. 3) Upon completing the inventory of all suspect materials that will require sampling, ACC will inspect the site and determine the presence and number of suspect materials to be sampled at the site. 4) ACC will obtain the appropriate number of samples in accordance with the related material using appropriate methods for sampling discussed below. 5) Lastly ACC will construct a floor plan sketch of the property showing all rooms, bathrooms, closets, etc. so that material and sample locations in the report can be located more easily by the reader.

Preparation of Survey Reports

Data collected during the survey is documented on ACC's Survey Data Forms, including the Material Information Form, Building Information Form and Chain of Custody with Sample Location Form. Quantities of materials, description of material locations and any damaged conditions of materials will be entered into final report. Sample results are entered into the report as soon as they are received from the laboratory.

A draft report is prepared and reviewed by the project manager and upon completion of the review the final Draft report is generated and provided to OUSD for review and comment. Upon completion and if there are no unanswered questions after review of the report, a final report will be issued including five (5) hard copies as well as an electronic version in PDF Format.

The report will contain all requirements listed in the RFP.

Project Design: Design of Asbestos Containing Materials, Lead-Based Paint/Lead-Containing Materials and Other Hazardous Substances Methodologies and Specification and Monitoring Lead-Based Paint/Lead-Containing Materials, Asbestos and Other Hazardous Substances Abatement work will be prepared upon request or as needed.

Abatement Design, Specification and Bidding Assistance: ACC provides cost effective and safe abatement methodologies incorporating the best project management principals in accordance with local, state and federal regulations.

Laboratories

All outside laboratories used by ACC are fully accredited by DOHS and participate in NIOSH (PAT), AIHA, ELPAT, and NAVLAP. ACC selects outside laboratories based on accreditation, timeliness (contracted turn around time) and accuracy of samples submitted for analysis.

ACC works with these labs on a daily basis and is able to negotiate both best costs and services for all forms of sample analysis. All laboratories publish and follow approximately the same time frames for turn around of sample analysis. Ensuring the best service from the lab however requires the consultant to communicate properly with the labs as well as to execute best practices in obtaining samples and transmitting them to the laboratory.

ACC's Safety Program

It is the Policy of ACC Environmental Consultants to provide a safe working environment for all employees. In keeping with this commitment, ACC has established a written Injury and Illness Prevention Program (IIPP). This program is an integral part of ACC's regulatory responsibility to maintain compliance with, among others, the following citations:

1. Senate Bill 198. Statutes of 1989 Chapter 1369; Labor Code 6401.7
2. Cal/OSHA Title 8 California Code of Regulations (CCR) General Industrial Safety

Regulatory Compliance and Safety Observation

ACC project managers and technicians have all completed their asbestos and lead-based paint certification courses, which require them to possess and demonstrate a thorough knowledge of all applicable regulations. In addition, ACC holds semi-monthly staff meetings where any changes in regulations or enactment of new regulations are discussed.

ACC project management personnel have frequent contact with Air Quality Management District and Cal/OSHA inspectors who often visit our job sites. ACC's project managers always tour the site with the regulator and if requested make any suggested modifications. ACC has never had a project cited by a regulator.

Workman's Comp Experience Modification Rate

ACC's does not qualify a Workman's Compensation Experience Modification Rate (EMR). Please see attached letter from WCIRB California documenting ACC's Experience Modification over the last 10 years.

Litigation and Cal OSHA Citations.

ACC has had no current or past Litigation arising from projects and has never had a Cal OSHA citation.

Quality Assurance and Quality Control

ACC employs methods and tools that assure quality outcomes and quality controls for all of our work. ACC's staff will follow a comprehensive Quality Control Plan to guarantee that all required services are provided to OUSD as specified in this RFP.

ACC has developed proprietary software programs for survey work to assist inspectors in the gathering and recording of information in standardized format. This certifies that our clients receive documentation that is consistent from project to project. Our Field Technicians upload project documentation to internal servers daily for review by project managers. Client access to daily documentation is available upon request.

This standardized format also acts as a built in quality assurance mechanism by requiring our staff to be thorough and accurate when gathering project data. Accuracy in data gathering allows for development of precise scopes of work that reflect the true requirements of projects, leading to the best opportunity for fair and accurate bids. This, combined with our depth of experience helps us prepare clear and well-defined specifications that minimize the possibility for costly change orders.

ACC maintains a Policy and Procedure Manual that outlines our Firm's approach to Quality Assurance and Quality Control, specifically relating to:

- Monitoring Methods: ACC has provided project oversight for thousands of abatement projects over the past 29 years. Our field certified staff provides continuous monitoring of each project. We advocate and maintain a pro-active approach in working with contractors and clients to ensure that a project is conducted in the most timely and cost effective manner while maintaining the highest level of safety for all stakeholders. Our staff's chief mission when on site is to monitor and record the conduct of the abatement contractor while the work is performed. Through the use of good communications and comprehensive understanding of the project requirements ACC asserts our authority in timely and appropriate ways whenever a potential issue is observed to act proactively before it becomes a hazard.
- Air Sampling and Reducing Exposure Levels: A primary principal of hazardous material management is to minimize the possibility of exposure risk. ACC adheres to this principal when designing management programs for facilities or specifications for abatement projects.
- Management Plans: We develop management programs that emphasize proper management of hazardous materials starting with gaining a clear understanding of the materials and condition in the subject facility through surveys and assessments of condition. We have developed hazardous materials data management software that is a very effective tool to manage these materials. We ensure compliance by providing training to key personnel in the basic policies and procedures of appropriate maintenance to ensure prompt recognition and response to issues of concern.
- Abatement Oversight Procedures: We are committed to ensure that contractors use best practices in performing the work of the project. We emphasize in our specifications requirements to be executed by the contractor (work area isolation, negative pressure differential containments, use of new and properly operating equipment, DOP testing of all negative differential equipment on site, properly trained crews etc.) as well as a clear enforcement of monitoring procedures by the oversight staff.
- Air Pressure Differential Monitoring: During asbestos removal, it is critical to control the flow of air in the work area to assure that areas outside the work area are not contaminated by asbestos fiber and smoke generated by welding. To accomplish this, a negative differential air exchange is created where outside (clean) air is pulled into the work area, filtered through High Efficiency Air Filters (HEPA) and charcoal pre-filters and then exhausted outside the work area directed away from the buildings air intake mechanisms. As long as there is a negative pressure, fibers cannot disperse to other areas of the building and by controlling the smells and direction of the exhaust we can minimize the impact the work will have on adjoining occupied areas. ACC will also perform periodic walks of adjacent floors to detect smells eliminating from the work area.
- Periodic and Final Inspections Post Final Air Clearances: Because of the nature of the work ACC will perform daily periodic inspections of the work area to ensure that containments remains intact and breach free throughout the duration of the abatement work. Upon completion of each phase of the project, a job walk-through is performed. The contractor, ACC Project Manager and OUSD' Project Manager will inspect the areas to assure that the contractor properly completed the project. During the walk-through, a "punch list" of corrective actions required, such as items damaged or broken during the abatement process, is developed. The contractor is responsible for correcting items identified on the list.

Field Equipment

Equipment: Listed below is a partial list of the equipment owned and operated by ACC to perform the array of services required by the RFP:

- 6 Phase Contrast Microscopes
- 123 High flow air-monitoring pumps
- 15 Low flow personal air monitoring pumps
- 2 Niton X-Ray Fluorescence Spectrum Analyzers, with has six certified operators on staff
- 2 Thermal Imaging infrared cameras
- 3 Boroscopes
- 10 Moisture meters
- 3 DryCal Air Flow Calibrators
- 2 Gilibrator Calibrators

ACC maintains all the necessary equipment required to provide Phase Contrast Microscopy on-site or in our laboratory. ACC participates in the AIHA Proficiency Analytical Testing (PAT) Program and all of our field technicians are trained to provide NIOSH 7400 PCM analysis on-site during asbestos removal activities.

ACC equipment is always in top-notch condition and is calibrated on a regular bases. High (0 to 20 lpm) and low-flow (0 to 4 lpm) rotometers are secondary, field calibration devices for most sampling ACC conducts (i.e. TEM, PCM, dust, mold and bacteriological sampling). These devices are calibrated every six months using a primary standard. ACC either sends the rotometers out to a lab for calibration or calibrates them in-house using a Gilibrator or DryCal Air Flow Calibrator.

All technicians must carry the corresponding calibration curve/information with them at all times on projects. Technicians should also note the rotometer ID on each sampling chain of custody form (internal and external labs). Additionally, on Cal/OSHA regulated projects, Cal/OSHA may ask to review the calibration records for the secondary calibration devices used on those jobs.

ACC's Gilibrator is used as a primary calibration device for secondary field calibration equipment (i.e. high and low flow rotometers) and is also used as a field calibration device for certain sampling methodology (i.e. VOC sampling using sorbent tubes and Masterflex pumps).

When performing XRF survey. ACC will take at least three calibration check readings using the NIST Standards before beginning the inspection and after every four hours of testing. A set of calibration reading should also be done at the end of testing for that day.
