Budget Total (must add up to Anticipated Grant Amount)		$7,525.33

Narrative: Please provide the reasoning as to why the full Measure G1 allocation was not spent.

Due to school closures and cancellations resulting from COVID-19 shelter in place mandates, we were unable to spend all allocated funds on 1) Art teacher professional development and 2) field trips.

We propose that the carryover amount of $7,525.33 due to these cancellations, be spent on 1) whole class incentives and 2) external middle school teacher professional development:

- 1) We want to purchase $5,525.33 on additional prizes and incentives to bring more joy and community belonging for our students. Even during distance learning, we want to be able to continue incentivizing attendance and socio-emotional growth. Examples of collective incentives that students have identified include: celebratory grade level field trips when they've reached various attendance/SEL/behavioral benchmarks (when we return to in-person learning), school swag (t-shirts and sweatshirts designed by each class), books (high interest and selected by student), and other small prizes. During our monthly learning supply distribution in distance learning, students are still able to pick up their prizes! Our students have been working so hard and showing remarkable growth, and we want to continue celebrating their success by emphasizing collective growth. They will identify incentives as a class and work together to achieve their culture goals.
- 2) We want to purchase $2,000 in external professional development for our Middle School teachers to ensure their retention and overall job satisfaction. My team is especially interested in attending trainings that will support their teaching practice in distance learning. Teachers have had to quickly pivot and change how they teach virtually: multiple digital learning platforms, adapted engagement strategies and checks for understanding, synchronous and asynchronous instructional delivery, and limited instructional minutes are just some of the challenges they are focused on navigating and overcoming. Distance Learning has been tough on everyone- especially our amazing teachers. At a time where most educators are reporting job dissatisfaction due to the challenges of distance learning and safely re-opening, offering access to external professional development that inspires and supports them in the areas of need they have individually identified is critical for their sustained work. Additionally, it shows we value them as professionals.
