

BAYTECH Palace Theater Project

"It's going to be a great day at BayTech!"

History of the Palace Theater

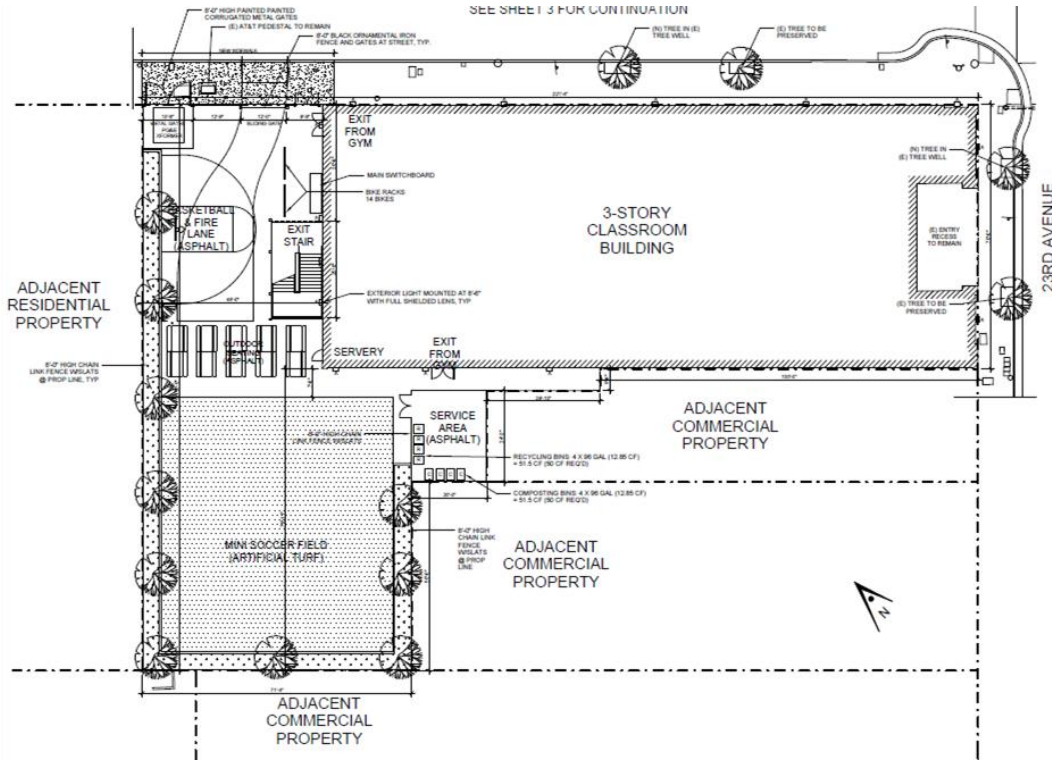

Construction: Originally constructed in the 1920s as a vaudeville theater, the Palace Theater transitioned into a movie theatre in the 1930s and then a church space in the 1950s.

Community Significance: The building has an Oakland Cultural Heritage Survey (OCHS) rating of B*2+ , indicating it is a contributor to the 23rd Avenue Commercial Area of Secondary Importance with a historic rating that could improve with restoration. While the building is not currently listed on the National or California Registers of Historic Places and Historical Resources, it is considered eligible for the California Register, and therefore would be considered a historical resource for the purposes of CEQA. The building is considered eligible for listing as a good example of a neighborhood theater designed in the early 1920s in a Spanish Colonial Revival style, as well as for its association with master architects, the Reid Brothers, who designed a renovation to the building in 1931.

Palace Theater Project Plan

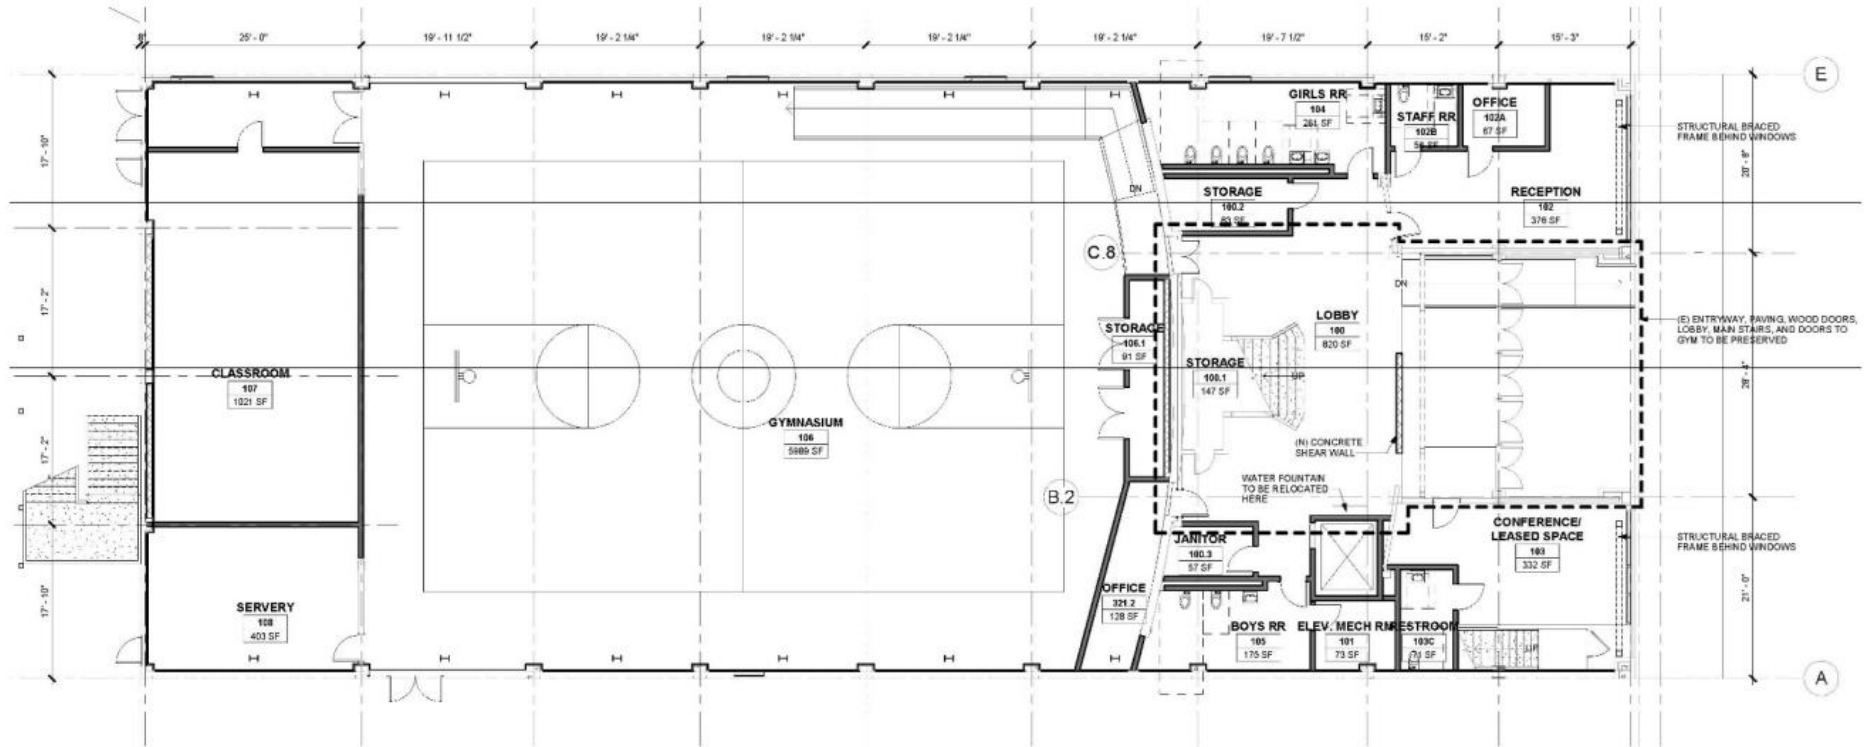

The property location (Census Tract 06001405901) qualifies as “severely distressed” for NMTC purposes. Specifically, the tract’s poverty rate is 32.4% and tract income as % of AMI is 31.9%. In 2023-2024, Bay Tech’s student population is 83.7% FRL which is higher than the OUSD 2023-2024 rate of 77.1%

Bay Tech is currently the owner of the property with construction having commenced in Summer 2023. The building is scheduled for a completion date in Fall 2025.

History of BayTech

- Founded in Downtown Oakland in 2004 when there was little emphasis on STEM education
- Part of the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation emphasis on creating Small Schools and their Learning Communities Movement
- 4 locations in our 20 year history with the last 10 years being at King Estates in East Oakland
- Continue to follow our initial mission of providing intimate, personalized education through the use of technology.

What is the “tech” in BayTech?

Our Mission:

BayTech infuses assistive technology throughout the school to provide a personalized educational experience for every student to be college and career ready.
