Special Education Updates

Jennifer Blake, Special Education Executive Director

Reducing Suspensions for High School Foster Youth with IEPs:

Collaboration between the Foster Youth
Advisory Committee, the Special Education Department, & Foster Youth Services

Foster Youth with IEPs as of 1/8/25

There are 147 foster students in OUSD.

Almost 40% of foster students have IEPs.

45.5% of foster youth with IEPs are in high school.

29.1% are in elementary school and 25.5% in middle.

65.5% of foster youth with IEPs are African-American.

14.5% of them are Latinx. These percentages are very similar for high school foster youth with IEPs.

Foster Youth with IEPs as of 1/8/25

54.5% of Foster Youth with IEPs have a Resource Program placement. 34.5% have a Special Day Classroom placement.

The percentage of high school foster youth with an SDC placement is much higher. It is 68%.

More than half of the foster students who were suspended in 2023-24 had IEPs.

About 60 percent of foster youth suspension incidents were also for foster youth with IEPs.

Most foster youth (with and without IEPs) were suspended in high school.

The Foster Youth Advisory Committee did this data analysis late in the Fall of 2024 and chose to focus on helping to reduce the number of high school foster youth with IEPs who are suspended.

Actions Proposed by FYAC

Review suspensions forms and IEP documents for all 2023-24 suspended 8th grade and high school foster youth with IEPs

Do an IEP benefit review for all students in the focal group

Offer an Education Advocate to caregivers of high school foster youth with IEPs.

Support from Special Education Staff

Special Education staff reviewed the IEPs for the high school foster youth who were suspended in 2023-24.

They identified:

- 1. strengths of the IEPs and changes needed
- 2. next steps for improving the IEPs and for providing additional support to the students who need it

Support from Special Education Staff

In 2024-24, Special Education staff will:

- 1. do an IEP benefit review for all high school foster youth with IEPs each semester
- 2. pull suspension data for foster youth with IEPs at each marking period

Support from Special Education Staff

Special Education staff will also:

- 1. secure a restorative reentry meeting for any FY with an IEP who is suspended.
- 2. help to create an automated alert through the Aeries system whenever a student with an IEP is suspended. They will notify Foster Youth Services when the student is also a foster youth.

Appreciation

Big appreciation for the work of the Foster Youth Advisory Committee yielding depth of collaboration by staff.

We need to leverage the formal IEP meeting structure to help convene all parties that can help disabled foster youth.

Appreciations by Jesse Miller and Jennifer Tam from Foster Youth Services for their work.

The OUSD
Special Education Program Guide and Enrollment Reminders

Our 2025-26 Program Guide is Here!

What is the guide? The guide is designed to provide information about our Special Education Department, the continuum of services and structure of our programs, and the locations that offer each type of program.

Q&A Accompaniment: This document provides answers to common questions about enrollment and has links to information about school tours and info sessions.

Specialized Programs not in the Guide

- 1. Deaf and Hard of Hearing self-contained services are provided at Burbank Preschool, KDA, Bret Harte, and Skyline.
- 2. Programs for the Vision Impaired are a bit different, as there are far fewer students who are blind or who have significant vision impairments, and most are in general education or California School for the Blind. We have concentrated Teacher of the Vision Impaired supports at Bret Harte and Skyline.

Please make sure to enroll on time!

Do you have a child entering TK, K (not already in TK), 6, 9, or Young Adult? If so, you need to enroll!

Please see the December CAC slides for specific instructions.

You can use <https://www.chooseousd.org/> to enroll your child. Please make sure to use the ‘forgot password’ option if your child has ever attended OUSD before instead of making a duplicate account.

On-time enrollment ends on February 9th, 2025.

Alternative Dispute Resolution

What is ADR?

Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) refers to a system of informal meetings and exchanges that can help districts and families move through disputes and disagreements that arise during the IEP development or implementation processes.

OUSD SELPA is fortunate to have a dedicated, neutral ADR facilitator.

Why ADR?

ADR can be a good alternative to more formal, legal dispute processes in many ways:

- It's usually much faster
- It can provide creative solutions that a judge cannot order
- It preserves relationships
- It saves on legal costs

ADR Works for OUSD!

- In the 2023-24 school year, we had 29 ADR intakes. Of those cases, 26 were resolved in ADR, often months faster than an Office of Administrative Hearings Due Process Request would take.
- Only one ADR referral resulted in a Due Process Request in the 2023-24 school year.
- For the first half of the 2024-25, 15 cases have been referred to ADR, 10 have been resolved in ADR. The other 5 cases are still actively engaged in ADR and have not resulted in a Due Process Request. Notably, 4 of the 10 cases resolved this year through ADR involved students represented by counsel, yet still required no legal fees be paid for settlement.

Who should reach out for ADR?

Any educational rights holder of a child within the SELPA boundaries who has an ongoing dispute or disagreement regarding Special Education evaluation, placement, or services may request ADR.

We request that parties attempt to resolve their concerns at the site level via an IEP amendment, at minimum, before requesting an ADR intake meeting.

ADR focuses on disputes related to IEP development and implementation, not areas like school site preferences, personnel conduct or performance allegations, or transportation preferences.

What happens in ADR?

Step 1: Contact

If you have a concern or disagreement not resolved via an IEP meeting, reach out to the ADR team via email at adr@ousd.org.

Step 2: Intake

Our ADR facilitator will reach out to you to set up an intake meeting for you to share your concerns in more details at a time that works for you.

Step 3: Meet

You will meet via phone or Zoom with our neutral ADR facilitator. You will likely have a few emails and phone calls to gather information and/or concerns.

Step 4: Resolve

The facilitator will guide you and OUSD staff through each concern and move things to a successful resolution.

Annual Data Update

Eman Al-Taher,
Special Education Data Analyst

Where we were when the CAC began to focus on reducing suspensions for Disabled Black Students

2018-19

In 2018-19
Suspension rates
for Disabled Black
Students with IEPs
in Grades
6th to 8th were close to 25%

In 2023-24
 Suspension rates
 for Disabled Black
 Students with IEPs
 in Grades 6th to 8th were close to

This is a 5 percentage point drop from where we were in 2018-19.

Where we are right now:

Compared to this time last year, suspensions rates for all Students with IEPs have remained steady.

In 2023-24, we saw a drop of over 2 percentage points.

This chart shows this years current suspension rates as of December 16, 2024, and compares it to this time last year (December 16, 2023) and the year prior (December 16, 2022).

Compared to this time last year, suspension rates for African American
Students with IEPs
have remained steady.

In 2023-24, we saw an almost 3
percentage point decrease.

This chart shows this years current suspension rates as of December 16, 2024, and compares it to this time last year (December 16, 2023) and the year prior (December 16, 2022).

Where we ended up
in 2023-24:

Being African American or having a Disability increases your likelihood of being suspended

By Race (African American)

The End-of-Year suspension rate for all African American Students decreased by .8 percentage points from 2022-23 to 2023-24.

By Special Education Status

The End-of-Year suspension rate for all Disabled Students with IEPs decreased by 1.5 percentage points in the same time period.

Overlapping Student Groups

Suspension rates for students who are both African American and have a Dis/ability (IEP) are higher

The End-of-Year suspension rate for African American Students with IEPs decreased by .8 percentage points from 2022-23 to 2023-24.

Their suspension rates remain higher by 4 percentage points than their non-disabled African American peers.

They are also suspended at 3 times the rate of their disabled peers who are not African-American.

2023-24

2022-23

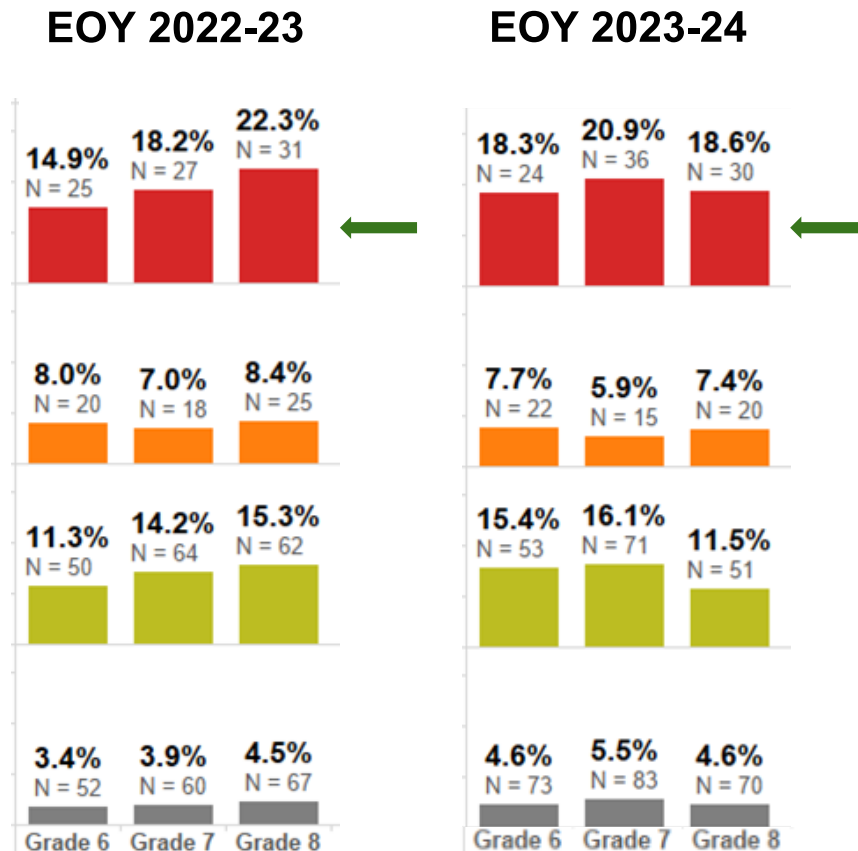

Grade Level

Suspension rates for African American Students with IEPs increased in grade 6 by 3.4 percentage points and increased in grade 7 by 2.7 percentage points from 2022-23 to 2023-24.

They decreased in grade 8 by 3.7 percentage points.

What do we see when we look at suspended African American Students with Dis/abilities in grades 6-8 by school?

6-8 Suspension Rate for African American Students with IEPs

Note: While we are not able to report the data for Urban Promise Academy, suspension rates for this student group decreased in 2023-24 as compared to 2022-23. Schools not included due to small populations of African American students with IEPs are CCPA, Greenleaf and MLA.

At the end of the year last year (2023-24) the average suspension rate grades 6 to 8 was 19.4%. At the end of the year prior the average was 18.2%.

Results suppressed when the denominator (N) < 10. Schools with grey boxes serve fewer than ten (10) African-American Students with IEPs in 2024-25.

What program types were associated with the highest rates of suspensions for African American Students with Disabilities?

Last year, 19.4% of African American students in Self Contained Programs were suspended in grades 6-8

2023-24

2022-23

The end of year suspension rates for 6th to 8th grade African American students in Self-Contained settings increased by about 1.2 percentage points from 2022-23 to 2023-24.

What does the suspension of African American Special Education students look like across school and broken down by program type?

Suspension rates by program type at different schools

Results suppressed when N<10. Schools with grey boxes do not serve a significant number of students in that program type.

The top suspension rates for African American students in Self-Contained settings so far this year are at Montera, Roosevelt and Westlake each suspending at a rate above the district average for African American students with disabilities (11.5%).

The top suspension rates for African American students receiving Primarily Inclusive services were at Frick United, Westlake, and West Oakland MS.

Please note: there are some schools who are not included in this chart due to having too few students in these subgroups (e.g. Claremont, Urban Promise Academy).

At the end of the year last year (2023-24) the average suspension rate for this group was 16.9%. At the end of the year prior the average was 17.1%

Comparing the end of year numbers from 2022-23 and 2023-24, at the school level we see that many of our high schools have seen decreases in percentage points for suspension rates of African American Special education students.

Those include; Bunche, Castlemont, Dewey and Fremont.

Street Academy's percentage is an outlier given their very small student body and decrease in enrollment of students with IEPs who are Black/AA.

Appendix: High School Suspension rates by program type at different schools

So far this year the top suspension rates for African American students in self-contained programs are at Castlemont, Oakland Tech and Fremont. Unlike prior years, none of these schools are suspending at a rate above the district average for African American students with disabilities (11.5%).

The top suspension rates for African American students receiving Primarily Inclusive services were also at Fremont, Skyline, and Oakland Tech.

Please note, there are some schools that are not included in this chart due to having too few students in these subgroups.

What does this data look like for our Elementary schools?
